WALL STREET BROAD RISE MARKS DAY'S STOCK TRADE

Apparent Passing of Month-End Credit Stringency, Reflected in Lowering of Call Money Rate.

MORE THAN SCORE TO NEW TOP LEVELS

U. S. Steel Corporation Earned $5.04 a Share in First Quarter Against $2.11 Year Ago.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A broad upward movement of stock prices, more than a score of which attained record high levels, was Wall Street's response today to the breaking of the month-end credit stringency. Call money dropped from a renewal rate of 14 per cent to 10, with funds available in the "outside market" below that figure in the late afternoon.

Some profit-taking came into U. S. Steel common and some of the other industrial favorites in the last hour of trading, but closing prices generally were around the high levels of the day, with gains of 2 to nearly 20 points scattered throughout the list.

Mail order and merchandising shares were prominent in the late rally. Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward both showing substantial gains on predictions of record-breaking sales and earnings. Office appliance issues also were heavily bought under the leadership of Underwood Elliott Fisher, which soared more than 2 points to a new high record above $122 a share.

A. T. & T. up 4 Points.
American Telephone, responding to the issuance of valuable "rights," was marked up more than 4 points. There was renewed buying in automobile group under the leadership of Hupp and Packard, each of which sold at least 5 points above yesterday's closing quotations. Hupp, after having sold as high as 19 1/2, rallied to 20 1/2. Packard, after having crossed $7 for the first time, the whole motor accessory group giving an impressive demonstration of strength.

Steel Earns $5.04 in Quarter.
The United States Steel Corporation report, issued shortly after the close of the market, showed earnings of $5.04 a share in the first quarter as against $3.43 in the preceding quarter and $2.11 in the last quarter of last year. Plans of the corporation earlier in the day were unofficially reported to be operating above 100 per cent of rated capacity. U. S. Steel common closed at 135 1/2, after having sold as high as 139 1/2. American can crossed 144 for the first time since the stock split in 1926. Case Threshing run up 10 points and Cressley Radio 7 points, the last named being influenced by expectations of a favorable quarterly earnings report. Air reduction moved into new high ground.

More Followers of Oils.
Oils attracted a large following today as a result of a gradual restriction of production along the lines laid down by the American Petroleum Institute. There was a good demand for Sinclair, which closed 4 points higher at 29 1/2. Adams Express broke 24 points and Otis Elevator 9 1/2, the turnover in each case being small. Total sales crossed the 4,000,000 share mark.

Foreign exchanges gathered strength as the day progressed, but trading was only moderate in volume. Commodity markets displayed a firm undertone. Cotton rallied about 1/4 a bale, but lost part of its gain on realizing. Wheat futures advanced about 2 cents a bushel.

Wall fluctuations again took place in United Aircraft, which moved nearly 12 points to a new high record around 150, or nearly double the low of three weeks ago. It was stamped as the specialist with orders in this stock that he found impossible to accept any but market orders. Other airplane issues also were actively bought on predictions of unusually large earnings and rumors of new consolidations.

Commercial Solvents was the outstanding individual feature, soaring nearly 20 points to a new high at 25 1/2 by 3:40 p.m., when it compares with the year's low of 23 1/2. U. S. Industrial Alcohol advanced 1 1/2 to a new top for the day.

Closing stock prices with call tables and market news will be found on pages 34, 35, 36 and 37.

'I See You Speak Perfect English' Gets Laugh in London

British Sniff at Hollywood Accent but Patronize Pictures to Exclusion of Their Own

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, April 30.—Voices from Hollywood are annoying British motion picture circles and protests are to be found almost daily in the British press, where scornful critics have been asking how it happens that American "talkies" with their American dialect should be packing British picture theaters virtually unopposed by made-in-England talking films.

It had been taken for granted that the advent of talking pictures would mean the end of American domination in the picture field here. English audiences, it was widely predicted, would only laugh at the speech of Americans and turn naturally to the talking films in which English would be spoken as it is spoken in England.

Part of the prediction has been realized; there has been considerable laughter in the houses where American talkies are shown. One line, addressed to the heroine of a Hollywood picture now playing here, invariably brings loud guffawing from the spectators. It is: "I see you speak perfect English." Apparently the audience takes a different view of the heroine's diction.

However, this and other films keep on drawing crowds. Some exhibitors estimate that an American "talkie" brings from 15 to 20 per cent more money into the box-office than any other picture they can show.

As a result, the rush is on to equip theaters for American films. To date not a single feature, made-in-England talking picture has been shown here, though numerous subjects have reached the screen.

MAN SAID TO HAVE 5 WIVES HELD IN JAIL FOR BIGAMY Neighbor Recognizes Edward Schwalm in Quarrel as Husband of Another Woman.

When Edward Schwalm, 51-year-old mainstay quarreled with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Frances Griffey, at the Griffey home, 2750 Papin street, Sunday night, one of Mrs. Griffey's neighbors thought he looked familiar. The quarrel concerned the divorce of Schwalm's wife, Mrs. Mary Schwalm, 19 years old. Schwalm was arrested, charged with peace disturbance, and the neighbor communicated with Mrs. Griffey, 3125 Washington avenue.

Mrs. Carrie Schwalm told prosecuting attorney Griffin that she still is married to Schwalm, and charged that she left him because he had three other wives, all living and none divorced. Schwalm was transferred to the City Jail, where he is held on a bigamy charge. He declined to comment.

PAPER FIRM OWNS STOCK IN 13 DAILIES ITS HEAD ADMITS

A. R. Graustein Tells Federal Trade Commission of Buying Shares in Two Boston Publications.

CLOSE CO-OPERATION WITH GANNETT CHAIN

Chicago Daily News and Journal and Brooklyn Eagle on List of International's Holdings.

By RAYMOND P. BRANDT, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—A. R. Graustein, president of the International Paper and Power Co., and member of the policy committee of the National Electric Light Association, today disclosed before the Federal Trade Commission that his public utility and paper companies held large interests in 13 newspapers in the East, Middle West and South.

These papers are as follows: The Boston Morning Herald and Evening Traveler, the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, the Chicago Journal, the Chicago Daily News, the Albany Knickerbocker Press, the Ithaca Journal News, the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune, the Greenboro (N.C.) Record, the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle, the Spartanburg (S.C.) Herald-Journal and the Columbia (S.C.) Record.

Graustein's testimony showed that he had worked in close cooperation with Frank E. Gannett of New York, who recently acquired his seventeenth newspaper. Graustein stated that his companies held $1,340,000 of the stock of the International Paper Co. and 499 shares of the common stock of the B. D. E. Corporation, which controls the Brooklyn Daily Eagle Publishing Co.

Interest in Gannett Papers.
Graustein said he held 142,000 worth of the preferred stock and 2000 shares of common stock in the company publishing the Knickerbocker Press and the Albany Evening News, and that he held a contingent interest of $200,000 in the Ithaca Journal News in the way of notes. These are all Gannett newspapers.

Graustein insisted throughout his testimony that his company had acquired the newspapers only as an outlet for newsprint. He denied emphatically that he held any thought of attempting to influence the editorial or news policy of the papers regarding Government ownership of public utilities.

The other witnesses this morning before the commission were Robert Lincoln O'Brien, former president of the Boston Publishing Co., which publishes the Herald and Traveler, and former editor of the Herald; James Garfield, clerk of the Boston Publishing Co.; and O'Brien and Garfield had declined to say what price had been paid for the half interest in the Herald and Traveler by the International Paper Co. Graustein testified the price had been $5,284,200 and that the papers had been capitalized at $10,768,400. All the stockholders sold except the holder of their holdings to the paper company.

Got Shares at Bargain. The three witnesses agreed that the paper company had bought the newspaper interest at a bargain. Graustein estimated that the 50 per cent holding was worth $1,000,000 more than was paid for it Jan. 2, this year.

The holdings in the Chicago Daily News, amounting to $250,000 of the preferred stock and 5000 shares of the common, had been acquired on advice of the paper company's sales manager. Graustein testified. He estimated that these holdings constituted 4.15 per cent of the preferred stock and 1.25 of the common. He said his companies were not represented on the Daily News Board of Directors.

The paper company's holding in the Chicago Journal, Graustein said, consisted of $1,000,000 of the debentures, $600,000 of the preferred stock and 10,000 shares of the common stock of Bryan-Thomson Newspapers, Inc., which also control the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune and the Greensboro (N.C.) Record. These holdings represented 20 per cent of the securities of the Bryan-Thomson Corporation, Graustein testified.

Holds Notes of Publishers. Interest in three North and South Carolina newspapers was acquired through the acceptance of $355,000 in notes from two young newspaper men, Hall and Lavarre, Graustein testified. This interest was obtained about eight months ago, he said. The contingent interest in the Ithaca Journal News, Continued on Page 2, Column 2.

ADMITS HE KILLED ESTRANGED WIFE AND BURNED BODY

E. F. Peacock, Police Report, Tells of Strangling Her in Quarrel Near Scarsdale, N. Y.

RETURNED TWO DAYS LATER TO SET FIRE

Husband Charged With Murder in First Degree—His Alleged Sweetheart Also Held.

By the Associated Press.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 30.—Earl Francis Peacock today confessed that he killed his 20-year-old estranged wife, Mrs. Dorothy Peacock, after a quarrel, and burned her body with kerosene, according to Michael Silverstein, Chief of Mount Vernon detectives, and Capt. Philip McQuillan of the Greenburg town police.

The charred body was found under an apple tree in a thicket along the Ardsley road Saturday and identification was made through a small burned piece of the victim's house dress. The husband was taken into custody last night, as a material witness. After a night of questioning at Mount Vernon Police Headquarters, this morning, officers said he broke down, and made a confession.

Cool and collected, apparently, Peacock, who is 21 years old, was brought to New York City today, questioned in private by District Attorney Frank A. Coven.

Slayer Arraigned for Murder.
Peacock later was taken back to Mount Vernon, County Medical Examiner Squire announced the charge against him had been changed to first degree murder. After arraignment, Peacock will be brought back to the county jail here.

According to the alleged confession of the youthful husband, as made public by Capt. Silverstein, the couple had been living apart, following a disagreement. The wife went to New York while Peacock continued to live in his Mount Vernon home.

On the night of April 21, Peacock was playing cards at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Alphonse A. Heinzelman, in Bronxville, when he recalled it was his first wedding anniversary. He excused himself and drove in his car to the house in West 143d street, New York, where his wife was living under the name of Lillian Maney.

Arriving at the house, Peacock's alleged confession continued, his wife, after a brief talk, consented to accompany him for a ride to their old home in Mount Vernon, where they arrived at 11:45 o'clock.

As they entered, she said, according to Peacock: "Well, this looks like a daylight penetration. The fish has its own phosphorescent lights, strung along its sides like a row of portfolios on a steamer."

The other is a lantern fish, a habit of deep-sea water, is thought no daylight penetrates. The fish has its own phosphorescent lights, strung along its sides like a row of portfolios on a steamer.

He resented this and a violent quarrel ensued. There was a "claw" him with her finger nails. Finally he drew two knives and struck her on the head with it. The struggle continued, said the confession, and she knocked the weapon from his hands. Both reached for the pistol. She was screaming continually.

Peacock said he placed one hand over her mouth and the other on her throat. After a time she appeared to faint and he discovered that her body was cold. Peacock said he was screaming continually.

He then drove out to the spot where he had thrown the body, saturated the towel and clothing with kerosene and set fire to the clothing. Questioned closely as to the matter, Peacock told the police they had many bitter quarrels over "the kind of life she was leading."

Frances Murray, 19, is being held in the Mount Vernon jail as a material witness. Miss Murray, the police allege, is Peacock's sweetheart. She was arrested last night at her room in 151st street, New York. The girl told police she had stayed with Peacock in his Mount Vernon apartment and was returning to New York City.

MIRAGE OF WARSHIPS IN ACTION OBSERVED IN FOG FROM LINER

Captain Tells of Vision of Destroyers at Target Practice Off Grand Banks.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The Hamburg-American liner Hamburg, besides bringing $2,000,000 in gold yesterday, brought news of a strange mirage sighted by passengers and crew as the liner was turning the corner off the Grand Banks.

Capt. Oscar Schwamberger, master of the Hamburg, said that mirages are a common spectacle at this time of the year, but the one sighted in this crossing was unusual.

At first there appeared through the fog a small fleet of vessels, apparently with smoke belching from guns aboard. For a moment, Schwamberger said, it resembled a destroyer flotilla engaged in target practice, but knowing the improbability of warships at play in the steamship lane, he realized the vessels sighted were mirages, with fog supplying the cannon smoke.

In short time the flotilla was transformed into two freighters about seven miles off, distorted by the mist until their masts reached the sky, with quivering hulls of gelatine, miles high, and rubber, wavy funnels that soared out of sight.

CASHIER FOUND SHOT TO DEATH IN DES ARC, MO., BANK

Man Seen to Run From Building, So Holdup Is Presumed, Though No Money Was Taken.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DES ARC, Mo., April 30.—E. W. Cook, 60-year-old cashier of the Bank of Des Arc, was shot to death in the bank this afternoon, apparently in an attempted holdup. No other employees were in the bank at the time, but persons outside heard a shot and saw a shabbily dressed man flee. No money was taken.

A car, said to be the slayer's, was left parked a block from the bank.

E. W. Fitt, president of the depository, said he thought Cook had failed to realize the robber was in earnest or had tried to reach his pistol which was kept under the counter. Cook was dead when found.

Des Arc is on the Missouri Pacific about 30 miles southeast of St. Louis.

$3800 Stolen by Four Robbers From Thompsonville, Ill., Bank. Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WEST FRANKFORD, Ill., April 30.—Four men, who today held the Bank of Thompsonville, 12 miles northeast of this place, and took $3800 in cash, fled in a southeasterly direction, exchanging automobiles with one farmer, and later forcing another to drive them in his car.

A report that the men were surrounded at a church near Thompsonville was denied later, and it was said that the men had been driving toward Harrisburg, county seat of Saline County.

Three robbers, roughly dressed, youths carrying automatic pistols, held up Cecil Dixon, assistant cashier, and Henry Fletcher, a customer. They threatened to lock Dixon and Fletcher in the vault, but did not do so. Dixon gave the alarm as soon as the robbers had driven away.

They escaped in a coupe bearing a Michigan license, driven by a fourth member of the party, wearing a woman's dress but thought to be a man. A short distance west of Thompsonville the party abandoned the Michigan car and forced a farmer to give up his car, in which they drove back through the town, going east. Two miles from town their car stuck in the mud. They compelled Lawton Parker, working in his field with his new Ford car near by, to drive them away.

The Thompsonville bank was held up and robbed of $1500 in 1923.

No recommendations for any change in dry law enforcement methods in the county were made by the jury, which reported before Judge John A. Newhall.

PRE-MAY DAY DISTURBANCE Berlin Police Arrest Number of Communists.

BERLIN, April 29.—Noisy communist demonstrations heralding approach of May day in such parts of the city as Spittelmarkt and Potsdamerplatz resulted yesterday in police interference and a number of arrests. The Communists have shouted defiance of police orders prohibiting open demonstrations and have urged workers to rally tomorrow in disregard of them.

A monument to William I in the suburb of Weissensee and to Frederick III in Charlottenburg this sign has been painted in red letters: "Streets free for May 1."

DR. E. A. SCHARFF QUILTS AS CITY HOSPITAL HEAD

"Too Much Politics Too Little Money," His Explanation of Resignation.

Dr. Eugene A. Scharff, superintendent of the City Hospital for six years, today said his resignation, effective June 15, to Mayor Miller, "Too much politics and too little money," was his brief reply to a reporter's inquiry as to the reason for his decision.

It will be recalled that during the recent mayoralty primary Dr. Scharff refused to write letters to his friends asking that they support the Mayor for re-election. "I believe the City Hospital should be kept out of politics," he said at that time. He declined to say to date whether any new situation objectionable to him had arisen.

As superintendent of the hospital, Dr. Scharff receives $4000 a year, his board and lodging. At most eight years ago, he left private practice to become superintendent of the Isolation Hospital at a salary of $215 a month and maintenance. In February, 1923, he was appointed to the City Hospital post at $250 a month or $3000 a year. He has received two increases since then.

"I have put forth my best efforts to establish the confidence of the patients in the hospital and made every effort to give them the best possible care," Dr. Scharff said. He has no definite plans for the future, admitting, however, that he was considering certain offers from out-of-town hospitals.

FORD OFFICER IN DRY INQUIRY General Manager Called in Belle Isle Liquor Investigation.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., April 30.—The Federal grand jury investigating the Belle Isle liquor conditions today called Charles E. Sothen, general manager of the Ford Motor Co. and former commodore of the Detroit Yacht Club on Belle Isle; Aaron De Roy, automobile distributor and member of the club, and Fred Robinson, superintendent of the Department of Parks and Boulevards, to clear up testimony given by police regarding liquor conditions on the island.

Announcement that these men were to appear before the grand jury was made today by Gregory H. Frederick, assistant United States District Attorney, who also announced that A. A. Schantz, president of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Co. and a director of the yacht club, would be subpoenaed, if he returned to the city before June. No more police officers will be questioned, according to Frederick.

SENATE RECESS FOR LINDBERGH Members File Past Flyer and Shake Hands With Him.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The Senate took a 10-minute recess today to greet Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Standing between Vice President Curtis and Senator Bingham (Rep.), Connecticut, who brought the aviator into the chamber, Lindbergh smiled and shook hands with the Senators as they filed by to congratulate him on his exploits. When the Senators had passed, the Senate pages pressed forward and shook hands with Lindbergh, while the galleries broke into applause. Lindbergh appeared before a Senate committee today to tell what he knows of airports in other cities and to offer suggestions for the construction of a new one in Washington.

The bond was signed by local representatives of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co. Ryckoff left the building with his lawyers, the City Hall windows again being lined with gazers as he got into an automobile, and the party drove away.

The grand jury, which is composed of 12 men, was organized on April 21.

Attempts to Serve Papers in Suits. However, attempts were made, as soon as Ryckoff reached the courtroom corridor, to serve papers on him in two suits. He refused to take the papers offered to him, and his St. Louis lawyer, Daniel Bartlett, made several protests. The suits were those of Della Klank, asking $100,000 damages for injuries suffered in stepping into a hole on Kosuth avenue, and of Willis and Emily Swain, asking $12,500 for an accident to Mrs. Swain in the 4200 block on North Market street.

No suit has yet been filed by the city, which is making a survey of Ryckoff's work in sidewalk repaving as basis for such a suit. The indictment of Ryckoff, Friedman and Heath was based on the facts developed by the Post-Dispatch in its news story of the $125,000 overcharge to the city for brick sidewalk repaving not laid, printed March 21.

Judge Hall, on being apprised that Ryckoff was coming—he had expected him to appear at 9 o'clock—sent out word that if photographs were to be taken, this should be done before the party entered his chambers. Ryckoff, by advice of his lawyers, Bartlett and C. C. Carnahan of Chicago, posed for photographs in a witness room.

The bond was signed by local representatives of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co. Ryckoff left the building with his lawyers, the City Hall windows again being lined with gazers as he got into an automobile, and the party drove away.

The grand jury, which is composed of 12 men, was organized on April 21.

ACCEPTS ARREST IN ALTON SO AS TO AVOID CIVIL SUITS

Appears Before Judge Hall, Posts Same Surety as Did Heath and Pritchard, Indicted With Him.

HUNDREDS WATCH HIM GO TO COURT

"I Wonder if Hoover Got as Big a Reception," He Comments, but Refuses to Discuss Case.

A. M. Ryckoff, Chicago contractor, surrendered at the Municipal Courts building today and gave $20,000 bond on the indictment charging him with obtaining $175,000 by false pretenses from the city under his bond issue contract for street lighting installation.

His bond, signed in Judge Hall's chambers, is of the same amount as those furnished by John C. Pritchard, Director of Public Utilities, and George B. Heath, chief electrical engineer, indicted with him, who have since resigned.

Ryckoff's arrival, at 10:40 o'clock, was witnessed by hundreds of city employees and others, who lined the rear City Hall windows and thronged the sidewalk of the Courts building, as the wealthy Chicago contractor was driven into the roadway between the two buildings, in company with his lawyers and with the deputy sheriffs who had escorted him at St. Louis.

"Why Such Honor?" Ryckoff Asks. "Why such honor to me?" was Ryckoff's comment on the many watchers and the photographers waiting at closer range. "I wonder if Mr. Hoover got as big a reception as this."

That was all he would say. When questions were asked about his case, or about the possibility of his appearing before the grand jury to tell his story of having been "held up" for money by city employees and others, he lifted his hand as a stop signal.

Ryckoff is about 52 years old, is dark and somewhat bald, and of athletic build, weighing about 200 pounds. He wears a tan suit, brown tie and light soft hat.

The formality of arrest on Illinois soil had been advised and arranged by Ryckoff's lawyers. The purpose was, by bringing him into Missouri under duress

BRITAIN WILLING TO QUIT GAS WARFARE IF OTHERS DO ALSO

Lord Cushendun Makes This Announcement at Disarmament Conference in Geneva.

DOMINIONS IN FAVOR OF THIS MOVE, TOO

Gibson Obtains Stipulation to Indicate Maximum of Officers of Nations' Armed Forces.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, April 30.—The British Government will adhere to the Geneva protocol of 1925 prohibiting the use of poison gas in warfare, Lord Cushendun announced today at the session of the preparatory disarmament conference.

The British spokesman made the single reservation—that reciprocity must prevail, and then made a similar announcement on behalf of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the Irish Free State.

Dr. Walter A. Riddell of Canada announced his Government had asked Parliament to ratify the protocol, also.

Nicolas Politis of Greece expressed hope that other signatory states which had not yet ratified the protocol would see their way clear to do so. The protocol was that arrived at, after American initiation, by the League of Nations traffic in arms conference in 1925.

Army Tables Discussed.

A discussion of tables, with respect to the fixing and listing, valuation, etc., of the maximum armed forces of each nation, followed. Hugh S. Gibson, American spokesman, intervened with the important statement that the United States could accept limitation of naval effective only provided such limitation should be generally accepted, and on condition that a satisfactory agreement should be reached respecting the limitation of warships.

The discussion on naval tables was then deferred.

Discussing the figures to be indicated in the table limiting armed forces, Gibson pointed out that the legitimate requirements of professional and conscript armies in officers were not commensurate, and on his suggestion the following words were deleted: "in order to prevent the number of officers, warrant officers and sergeants from exceeding the legitimate requirements of each army."

With this done the article in question merely stipulates that the maximum number of officers which the states will undertake not to exceed shall be indicated.

During today's discussion Politis presided, as President Loucheur is ill with influenza.

LONDON, April 30.—The Prince of Wales, laying the cornerstone of a new dental clinic in connection with the Royal Free Hospital, the gift of George Eastman of Rochester, N. Y., spoke appreciatively today of the donation and said it was not the first time that American assistance had been gladly welcomed. After the Prince had spoken, Premier Baldwin expressed thanks to Eastman for "his noble gift," American generosity, he said, had become proverbial and he thought that Americans gave in the wisest direction—in education and toward health.

The Prince, in his speech, said: "This gift and this co-operation between an American citizen and the authorities of a great hospital in London furnish one more instance, if one were needed, of the friendship which exists between the United States and this country. This friendship, which springs from a kinship of ideals as well as of blood, is well exemplified by this most generous and magnificent gift."

RYCKOFF SURRENDERS, GIVES $20,000 BOND IN LIGHTING FRAUD

Finishing its investigation of the lighting contract case, has on its calendar, as one of today's witnesses, Frank Stultz of 4355 A Shaw boulevard, an employee of the Public Utilities Department, and brother of James W. Stultz of 2215 Klemm avenue, an employee of the department, who disappeared from his home two days after Circuit Attorney Miller announced the grand jury inquiry.

The missing man handled some of the city's records of Ryckoff's work.

Resignation Not Yet Accepted.

Whether Attorney Bartlett will retire from the Police Board, to which he was appointed recently by Gov. Caulfield, has not been determined. As was told yesterday, Bartlett submitted his resignation to the Governor, whose law partner he was formerly.

Bartlett's telegram of resignation said that he did not wish to embarrass the Governor, and he felt under obligation to defend Ryckoff for more than two years. At the time when he received the Police Board appointment, Bartlett told the Governor he did not intend to appear in any criminal cases. Gov. Caulfield had not decided today whether to accept the resignation.

As a result of the indictment of Ryckoff, Pritchard and Heath, it is now considered likely that City Counselor Muench will accept reappointment and will remain at the head of the city law department at least for a time. He said a week ago that he was disposed to decline reappointment and re-enter private practice. Since the developments in the lighting case, the Mayor is thought to have made a special request to him to remain.

A Gannett newspaper, was a $300,000 note given when Gannett was negotiating for other newspapers, the witness said. This note, he added, had been sold to a bank, but as the bank might hold the news print company responsible, he had included it in the newspaper holdings.

Gannett also verified reports that his companies had attempted to buy into the Cleveland Plain Dealer and the Progress, an Italian newspaper published in New York. He stated that in seeking to buy into the Plain Dealer, his companies were willing to accept a capitalization of $20,000,000.

He also disclosed that negotiations were now under way for the acquisition of interest in another large newspaper. He asked to be excused from giving the name of this paper, on the ground that contracts were being drawn up and that publicity would endanger the negotiations. He was excused from answering the question.

Discusses Gannett Holdings.

Discussing his negotiations with Frank E. Gannett, Graustein stated that he was certain that Gannett represented no one but himself in the building up of a chain of newspapers.

"I had a talk with Mr. Gannett in the fall of 1928, when we were conducting newspaper sales campaign," Graustein said.

"Only one of his papers was buying newspaper from us. He was rather discouraging, saying that he understood that we maintained a standard price to all customers and that he had been able to buy at cut prices. I told him that we were willing to assist our customers financially, and this led him to suggest that we could help him financially. He showed us the earnings of his Albany newspapers, and we helped him, with the un-

24 PCT. LOAN BILL PASSED BY HOUSE BY 89-TO-9 VOTE

Hicks Measure Repealing Previous Act Defeated, Although Leaders Intended to Approve Both.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 30.—The Senate bill reducing the rate permitted by the small-loan law from 42 per cent a year to 24 per cent a year, and imposing more strict State supervision and regulation of small-loan companies, was passed by the House yesterday, virtually without discussion, by a vote of 89 to 9.

Immediately after passage of the Ballou bill, the Hicks bill, proposing repeal of the small-loan law passed in 1927, was called for passage, but was defeated by a vote of 45 yeas and 33 nays. The favorable vote was 31 less than the 74 votes required to pass a bill in the House.

Defeat of the repeal bill blocked to some extent the plans of sponsors of the small-loan legislation, as it was the intention of House leaders to pass both bills and let the Senate take its choice of the two bills for final passage. It was believed the repeal bill would serve as a lever to put through the Senate the Ballou bill reducing the interest rate and providing more rigid regulation of the loan companies.

Action Blocked in Senate.

Small-loan legislation has been blocked in the Senate, through the holding of similar Senate bills in the Senate Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence. Senator Buford E. Ellington, chairman of the committee, has been holding up the bills, and has failed to hold a meeting of the committee for several weeks for consideration of the bills.

An attempt to put a motion through the Senate to force the committee to make a report on the bills failed last week, chiefly due to the "senatorial courtesy" rule of the Senate, which enables the committee chairman to control bills sent to his committee.

The chances of final passage for the Ballou bill are uncertain, as it must pass through a Senate committee after being sent to the Senate, and if reported unfavorably, must take its turn on the already crowded Senate calendar.

An effort will be made to have the Ballou bill referred to a committee either in the Senate or in the House.

Only Ballou Bill Passed.

The House passed the Ballou bill immediately, without debate. The nine House members who voted against the bill are Representatives Kennedy of Cooper County, Mrs. Ruby McKeynolds, of Knox County, Lyell, of Shelby County, Laffert, of Kansas City, Riley, of Schuyler County, Rollins, of Boone County, Snyder, of Lewis County, Terrill, of Maries County, and Whitcomb of Monroe County.

The Hicks bill was called up in the absence of Representative Hicks of Kansas City, the author. Many of the House members apparently objected to sending over two conflicting bills to the Senate, and either voted against the bill or failed to vote.

The Ballou bill reduces the authorized rate of interest on small loans from 42 per cent a month to 2 per cent a month, and brings the so-called salary buyers under the provisions of the law. The salary buyers were exempted from the law as passed in 1927, and have resisted efforts to bring them within the jurisdiction of the small-loan law.

The bill permits only buying of salaries already earned, and prohibits the commission or fees charged on salary assignments, which shall not exceed the interest rate permitted by the small-loan law.

The loan companies also would be required to submit detailed annual reports, covering all the phases of their business, to the State Finance Department, which has supervision of the companies, and otherwise strengthens the department's regulatory powers over the companies. The small-loan law applies only to loans up to $300.

DETECTIVE SHOTS EX-CHAUFFEUR OF WILLIE RUSSO

Armed Negro Wounded on McKinley Bridge Says He Was Fleeing From His Former Employer.

A Negro motorcycleist, who said that he was fleeing from Willie Russo, former Italian gangster here, threatened two watchmen and a truck driver with a revolver at the east end of McKinley Bridge and was shot and seriously wounded this afternoon at 1:15 o'clock by Detective Ralph Johnson, as he reached the west end of the bridge.

Johnson had just received word from one of the watchmen to stop an armed Negro on a motorcycle, when he saw the Negro approaching. He called upon him to halt but he kept on and made a threatening gesture toward him. The officer fired, the bullet inflicting a serious wound in the cyclist's left side.

At City Hospital the wounded man said he was Wesley Cotton, 26 years old, a chauffeur of 1630 North Eighth street. He said he formerly was employed by Willie Russo, who left the city about a year ago to avert bloodshed between two rival factions and is now living in Springfield.

Cotton said that he saw Russo in Springfield today and that his former employer asked him to work for him again. When he refused, he related, Russo became angry and threatened him, pursuing him in an automobile when he fled on his motor cycle.

The Negro said that he lost sight of his pursuer between Grand City and Venice but feared that he was close behind him. As he approached McKinley Bridge, he said, he became involved in an argument with a truck driver who summoned two watchmen. Fearing that Russo would arrive at any second, he said, he brandished his revolver at the watchmen and driver and sped on across the bridge, where he was stopped by a bullet from the policeman's revolver.

Policeman Johnson, who was wounded several months ago by a robber, stated that he fired as the Negro reached toward his hip pocket. A loaded revolver was taken from the prisoner, who was placed against him pending the outcome of his wound.

TO DROP DAYLIGHT SAVING AGITATION UNTIL NEXT YEAR

Chamber of Commerce Considers Educational Campaign After Vote Shows Majority Opposed.

Daylight saving will be dropped for the summer, it is understood, and an "educational campaign" to swing a majority to it next year will be considered at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors next week, when the official count of its straw vote will be submitted.

The board will determine what further action, if any, may be taken. While no action seems obviously suggested by the 1856-vote majority against it, some observers considered the vote sufficiently close to indicate a chance for daylight saving to win at the polls in an official election.

Final count in the straw vote showed 8052, or 54.5 per cent of those voting, against daylight saving, and 6206, or 43.5 per cent, for it. These percentages, applied to the total registration of about 350,000, would give 203,400 votes against daylight saving and 156,600 for it. The majority against daylight saving was 13 per cent, and 13 per cent of the registered voters would be 46,800.

Plan Carries Two Ways. Daylight saving tied with 515 vote for and 515 against in the large southwest ward, the Twenty-fourth, and won in one South St. Louis ward and two West End wards. The vote was 392 to 295 in the Fifteenth Ward, 277 to 282 in the Twenty-fifth and 413 to 303 in the Twenty-eighth.

Ballots were sent to every tenth voter on the registration list, or to more than 35,000 voters, and 14,248, or two-fifths of them, responded.

Straw votes covering such percentages of registration and unrestricted to any particular class of voter have been credited with considerable accuracy as indices of majority opinion. This one was modeled after the Potts-Dispatch straw vote which forecast renomination of Mayor Miller in the recent primary, and was suggested by W. T. Collins, veteran campaigner for daylight saving, at the Chamber's initial spring conference on the periodically recurrent movement.

Opposed by Labor Unions.

The Chamber of Commerce has been an agitator for daylight saving, but acted as a neutral in conducting the straw vote. Other advocates included the Merchants' Exchange, Associated Retailers and Bankers. Its opponents included the Retail Druggists' Association and especially the Building Trades Council and Central Trades and Labor Union.

While the votes were being counted yesterday, the Real Estate Exchange wrote to the Board of Aldermen that a poll of exchange members showed 169 for daylight saving and 52 against it.

"FRESH AIR STRIKE" AT CITY JAIL QUELLED BY POLICE

Twenty prisoners at the City Jail engaged in a brief "fresh air strike" this afternoon, refusing to return to their cells on the west third-floor tier because guards had closed the windows to keep out the rain.

The prisoners, who had been exercising on another floor, stood their ground in the corridor until jail guards telephoned Police Headquarters. When a squad of policemen, under Capt. Amrhein, arrived, most of the prisoners scurried to their cells although force was used to move a few.

When the rainfall stopped, guards opened the windows.

Mrs. Heinselman told District Attorney Coyne her daughter had married Peacock, a radio repairman, in April of last year, but that they had separated. She said she had not seen her daughter since last February, but had learned that she had been working in Manhattan.

The authorities also gained possession "day of . . . ter written by Mrs. Peacock before she separated from her husband. It was addressed to her mother and after the sentence, "If anything happens to me, he'll be to blame."

FOUR SHOT TO DEATH
AT STILL IN KENTUCKY

Two Others Wounded in Fight Near Paintsville—Officers Seek Two Men.

By the Associated Press.
PAINTSVILLE, Ky., April 20.—
Six men, a woman and a boy, gathered around a moonshine still in a mountain hollow 10 miles from here last night, got into a row which ended in a shooting, and today the woman, boy and two men were dead; two other men were wounded, and county authorities were looking for the two other men.

Sheriff Harley Adams, going into the Riceville neighborhood early today to investigate, met an old-fashioned horse-drawn sled—a common vehicle where roads are not good. On it was the wounded man, Wayne Hannah, 22 years old,
lying beside the body of his brother, Wallace Hannah, 34, and the bodies of Lee Gibson, 45; his wife, Cassie, 35, and their son, Bernie, 14. A neighbor was driving the sled.

The bodies were taken to the home of Zena Johnson, father-in-law of Gibson and of Wallace Hannah, and Wayne Hannah was brought to a hospital here. The sheriff found two large stills near the place where he met the sled
coming out of the woods.

The wounded man at first refused to talk, but when he was told that the bullet in his lung probably would cause death, he told authorities that the shooting had occurred while eight persons were around the still. He refused to name the three others, but one of them, Benny Saylor, appeared later and surrendered. His arm had been broken by a bullet and Saylor was the only person in the gathering who was carrying pistols.

Authorities were inclined to regard the shooting as the outcome of a family difficulty rather than disagreement over the liquor business. The Hannahs and Gibsons, in mountain parlance, are of the same family.

SEEKING TO LINK
THIRD WOMAN WITH INDIANA SHOOTING

Prosecutor Suspects Two Heiresses Quarreled Over Another Person After Party at Evansville.

PLANS TO PRESENT
CASE TO GRAND JURY

Country Club Set Reticent
About Wounding of Mrs.
Conrad, Divorcee, and Miss Margaret Maley.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 20.—
Aversion of the country club set to publicity is making difficult the investigation of the affair here
early last Saturday in which Mrs.
Josephine Greene Conrad, 27-year-old divorcee and heiress, shot and seriously wounded herself after inflicting a minor leg wound upon Miss Margaret Maley, 28, heiress and orphan, in Miss Maley's apartment, where both have been living since Mrs. Conrad's divorce a year ago. The shooting followed a liquor party.

Mrs. Conrad is in a serious condition in St. Mary's Hospital, while Miss Maley is recovering at the home of a relative.
Prosecuting Attorney E. M. Lindsey, who said he would take the case before the grand jury if Mrs.
Conrad recovered, is finding hard sledding in his effort to reconstruct the incident. The events leading up to the climax of the evening were as follows: Following a political rally in the interests of the candidacy of Mrs. Susie B. Van Orman for the Republican Mayoralty nomination, a group of persons, including Mrs. Van Orman
and her husband, F. Harold Van Orman, owner of a string of hotels, remained to Miss Maley's apartment, at her invitation. The group also included State Senator John H. Hewitt of Terre Haute, Fred
Richards, insurance man; Jessica Greene, a cousin of Mrs. Conrad, and several others.

Guests Stayed Left Before 2.

All of the guests questioned today have said they left the apartment before 2 a. m. Saturday. According to Miss Maley, she suggested to her companion that they take a ride before retiring and when she turned around after getting her wraps, Mrs. Conrad was holding a .25 caliber automatic pistol. She tried to take it away from her, but she was shot in the thigh and then Mrs. Conrad turned the pistol on herself, the bullet entering her left side and ranging diagonally downward, emerging from the lower right side.
In a brief interview with the Prosecuting Attorney Mrs. Conrad has given virtually the same version of the shooting. However, Lindsey is not satisfied with these accounts and is of the opinion that at least one other person was in the apartment when the shots were fired. He is running down several theories, chief of which is his suspicion that the woman disagreed
over the friendship of a third woman and reached the climax in a quarrel which had been brewing for a month or more. He has information, he said, tending to show that they came to blows several weeks ago and that Miss Maley's nose was broken in the fight. His efforts to get full details of the entire affair have met resistance and a painstaking adherence to the original version.

Refuses to Be Interviewed.

Mrs. Conrad's physician will not permit visitors to see her and Miss Maley has refused to be interviewed.
Miss Maley, with her brother,
Henry, is heir to an estate estimated to be worth $1,000,000. She is living off the income until she comes into possession of her half share. Her father was a wealthy New Yorker. Mrs. Conrad, the mother of a 2-year-old daughter, eventually will inherit most of the estate of her late father, a millionaire insurance broker. She received her education in Canada and Paris while Miss Maley attended a finishing school in the East.

The Van Ormans, who were at the party, are one of the leading families here. Van Orman, in addition to his hotel and other business enterprises, is well known as the former Lieutenant-Governor of Indiana from 1923 to 1925.

Mrs. Van Orman is a society leader and one of three candidates for the Republican nomination for Mayor of Evansville. She is not convinced much of a chance. Both the Van Ormans are dry in sentiment and acceptable to the Anti-Saloon League.

PARIS SAYS HE DOESN'T LIKE TO JAIL WOMEN

So He Fines One $500 and Paroles Another for Violating Dry Law.

"I do not like to send women to jail," remarked Federal Judge Paris today when three women appeared in a long list of liquor case defendants.

"Accommodations at our jails
are not exactly suited to women,"
the judge continued. "The builders of the jails were not prophets,
therefore they could not foresee
that a number of women would enter the bootlegging industry and get caught."

Judge Paris imposed a $500 fine
on Mrs. Hedwig Wohlbbruck, who pleaded guilty of a sale of liquor in a saloon at 801 South
Sixth street, informed the Court that the defendant's husband had deserted her, that she had three children and that the children had mumps; also that the sale actually was made by a 20-year-old woman partner in the saloon business.

In view of the defendant's inability to pay a fine, and the illness of her children, Judge Paris sentenced her to four months in jail and immediately paroled her.

Mrs. Minnie Nejeleski pleaded not guilty of a sale, and her trial was set for May 7.

Bernard Stock, charged with sale
and possession, could not be in court, his lawyer explained, because he was serving a 30-day term
previously imposed by Judge Paris,
and would not be at liberty until June 8. His case was reset for June 8.

Joseph Palermo, 37, admitted selling liquor in the confectionery conducted by his parents at Spring and Sullivan avenues. He was fined $600. "I don't like to send a fine to jail; let his people pay the fine," said Judge Paris.

Other bootleggers fared as follows: Tony R. Miller, who operated from a room in the St. Regis Hotel, five months and $450; Perry Mora, southeast corner Second and Pine streets, 30 days; Raymond Orr, 6625 Easton avenue, three months and $400; John Ramseyer, roadhouse on Weber road, $400; Edward Ramsey, Bridgeport, $425; Joe Suh, northeast corner Ninth street and Clark avenue, 30 days; Arthur Stoll, 2209 Morganford street, 30 days; Walter Schuessler, 2737
Gravois avenue, three months;
John L. Taton, St. Charles, 70 days; Giovanni Vennari, 2505 Easton avenue, three months; William Weight, 2662 Weber road,

6523 Easton avenue, $1000; Alfred Leszveski, 512 Walnut street, three months; William Meyer, 806 Lucas avenue, $400.

Yesterday 28 bootleggers, including five women, pleaded guilty.
The women were fined while 10
of the men were sentenced to jail.

MEN GIRLS ACCUSE
GIVE BOND OF $2000

Three of Six Carterville, Ill.
Residents, Under Charges, Surrender.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CARTERVILLE, Ill., April 20.— Carterville gossip, who dubbed a group of elderly men "The Old Men's Club," changed their covert whispering to a resounding "I told you so" today following the announcement yesterday that warrants had been issued against them
on complaint of three 13-year-old girls. The cases will be presented to the grand jury which convenes next Monday. State's Attorney Browning said the penalty was imprisonment of from one year to life.

Dr. John P. Huff, who for 25
of his 55 years has practiced medicine in and about Carterville, has been active in politics and who was defeated as reform candidate for Mayor last Tuesday by only 15
votes, gave $2000 bond yesterday
when taken to Marion, the county seat. His preliminary hearing will be held before Justice of the Peace
Pillow Thursday afternoon. Dr.
James Coleman, 75, a physician
here for 40 years, and Alfred Deming, 66, proprietor of a small novelty store, also gave bond but waived preliminary hearings. Tim Cagle, 73, formerly a Justice of the Peace, father of Deputy Constable Casar Cagle, Ku Klux Klan member who was the first man killed at Herrin in the Klan strife, will give bond today. Austin Hill, 55, an electrician, also will appear.

Service has not been obtained on Columbus School No. 50, a teacher
Dr. Huff attributed the charge to political enemies who he declared, were responsible also for his indictment two years ago for murder following the death of a Herrin school girl who died following an illegal operation. This case has been continued several times and is set for the May Court term.

The girls who make the charges are daughters of coal miners, and were students in the seventh grade. A petition seeking to have them declared delinquent has been filed by Browning.

A ready supply of spending money which the girls always carried to have and the stores of candy in their desks at school caused a group of Carterville citizens to ask authorities to investigate.

The investigation was conducted by Mrs. Yuill, probation officer of the County Court. Pending consideration of the evidence
by the grand jury, she had placed
the girls in three private homes.
Mrs. Yuill declares the girls should not be permitted to return to their homes under any circumstances, declaring that evidently they have been neglected. The hopeless outlook upon life of some miners and their families,
owing to periodical unemployment,
was a factor in the present situation, Mrs. Yuill thinks.

GAS COMPANY TO REFUND
OVERCHARGE UNDER NEW RATE

Laclede Will Collect at Old Price
Up to April 6 in Bills Still to Be Sent Out.

Bills for gas in St. Louis are to be pro rated to take into consideration the distinction between old rates and the new and higher rates which became effective April 6. It is announced today by E. L. White, controller of the Laclede Gas Light Co. After many customers had complained that bills charged for gas consumed prior to April 6
at the new rates, City Counselor
Muench asked the State Public Service Commission to interpret its order, and the commission requested the company to remove the discrimination.

The situation is due to the fact that meter readings after the date of change covered consumption before and after that date. White said the bills would be pro rated
on the basis of the number of days before and after April 6, the former period being figured at the old rates and the later at the new.

Bills rendered some yesterday
are taking the change in method into account. For bills rendered between April 7 and yesterday,
which involved the discriminatory charges, refund checks will be mailed by the company.

BRITISH COUNTESS KILLED

Wife of Earl of Powis Victim of Auto Accident.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, April 20.—Countess Powis was killed yesterday in an automobile accident near Towcester while driving from Powis Castle, Welshpool, to London. Her car skidded and overturned. It was thought she may have died from shock as her body showed no signs of injury and her chauffeur was unhurt.

She was the wife of the fourth Earl of Powis, descendant of the
"Clive of India," hero of the battle of Plassey who was made a baron for his services in India.

The Countess was a peeress in her own right as well as by marriage.
She was the younger daughter and co-heiress of the twelfth Lord Conyers.

Accused of Drunken Driving.

William L. Harrigan, 3749 Westminster place, was pronounced suffering with acute alcoholism at City Hospital last night after his automobile collided with another machine at Sarah street and Hodi-mont tracks. Police said they would apply for a felony warrant charging driving while intoxicated.

WASHING AWAY SILT
AS THE RIVER FALLS

Workmen With Hose Cleaning Mud From Paved Levee—Gauge Reads 32.8 Feet.

With the flooded Mississippi
River dropping steadily at St.
Louis, work of cleaning the mud
and refuse it left on the paved downtown levee began today. The river gauge this morning was 32.8 feet, or 2.8 above flood stage, a fall of a foot since yesterday. It is expected to be about 31.3 tomorrow
and under 30 by Thursday.

Gangs of workmen in the employ of the city and the Terminal Railroad were using fire hose today to wash the silt from the sidewalk and exposed portion of the levee. As the water recedes day by day they will follow it, so that the river's deposit will not harden.
The flood, which had reached the buildings on the west side of the wharf, today had left the sidewalk
and a narrow portion of the pavement but the switch tracks still were submerged.

Basements of the adjoining buildings were flooded. Where these have severe openings to drain
the city will wash away the deposited mud. Where there are no sewer connections owners must have the water pumped out. The workmen are using 4400 feet of hose.

The flood in the Missouri River is ended, except in the immediate vicinity of the mouth above St.
Louis. St. Charles had a gauge
reading of 24.7 feet this morning,
or 3 of a foot below flood level,
a drop of two feet since yesterday.

Crest of the Mississippi flood was a little above Cairo, Ill., today and the stream remained in flood from Keokuk, Ia., to the Gulf of Mexico. At Chester, Ill., the next gauge downstream from St. Louis, today's reading was 32.6 feet, a fall of six inches since yesterday, but still 5.6
feet above flood line. The Mississippi is falling from Davenport, Ia., to Cape Girardeau, Mo., but rising slowly from Cape Girardeau to New Madrid, Mo.

The Illinois River is falling slightly north of Peoria, Ill., and will begin to fall south of there tomorrow. It has been flooded for some time.

Edison Seeking Successor
To Carry on His Work

Inventor to Hold Test to Select Most Scientific Youth in U. S.—Offers Four-Year Scholarship.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 20.—The high or preparatory school boy
with a scientific turn of mind,
who seems to Thomas A. Edison to be the best representative of American youth and to possess the keenest scientific mind, will receive from him four years' tuition
in the technical school of his own choice, it was announced yesterday.

The statement which Charles A.
Edison, president of the Edison interests in Orange, N. J., issued, explains the boy will be selected
first on the basis of his school work in 1923-1924, and finally on the results of a test personally prepared by Thomas A. Edison.

This scholarship was created not only out of Edison's interest in education but also by the inven-
tor's desire to find a youth of unusual capabilities who may be able to carry on his work, the statement says.

The Governor of each state and the commissioners of the District of Columbia have been requested to designate a board to select one boy each who meets Edison's requirements. The method of selection is left entirely to the Governors and commissioners.

The 49 successful boys will then receive a trial at Edison's expense,
with a trip from home to the Edison laboratory at Orange, N. J., some time about Aug. 1. There they will meet Edison and receive as a gift an Edison radio-phonograph.

A questionnaire prepared by Edison will decide the test. All boys who feel that they have unusual ability in scientific subjects,
and the parents of these boys, are urged to get in touch with their local school authorities. The names of all the state nominees must be in Edison's hands before July 1.

The first Thomas A. Edison questionnaire in May, 1921, was given to employers and applicants
for employment at the East Orange plants. Edison said at that time it had disclosed that men who had gone through college were "amazingly ignorant." The University of Chicago then drew up a set of questions for Edison to answer.

THREE HANDLAN WILLS
FILED FOR PROBATE

Terms of Two Earlier Testaments Virtually Same as in Contested Testament.

Two previous wills of the late Eugene W. Handlan, vice president of the Handlan-Buck Manufacturing Co., were filed in Probate Court today in addition to his last will, dated Dec. 17, 1924, which is being contested in a suit filed last week by his sisters, Mrs. Mary H. Hornsby of Joplin and Mrs.
Lillian Lemp of St. Louis.

The previous wills, dated April 16, 1923, and Jan. 2, 1925, contained virtually the same terms as the one under contest. In the event that the third will is set aside on the grounds of physical and mental unsoundness, as alleged, the second testament will become operative.

The only major difference in the three documents is that in the first, Mrs. Hornsby was bequeathed $1500 and in the others only $300.
Mrs. Lemp, with whom Handlan had had difficulties over the estate of their father, was mentioned in none of the wills.

Handlan's estate inventoried at $400,000. Under his will he established a $45,000 annuity fund and bequeathed substantial amounts to a niece, Miss Kathryn Handlan, various Catholic charities and churches and six women friends.

DESERTED HUSBAND KILLS
3 CHILDREN AND HIMSELF

Strangles Small Sons Then Leaps
in Front of Train at Fort William, Ont.

By the Associated Press.
FORT WILLIAM, Ont., April 20.—
A 30-year-old paper mill employee, deserted by his wife, strangled
his three small sons today, then killed himself by throwing himself in front of a train.

Discovery of the tragedy came after the finding of the body of Mike Walchin on the railroad tracks. Police found the three boys, Charles, 7 years old; Francis, 5, and Norman, 2, side by side in bed at home. They appeared to be asleep but on examination it was found they had been strangled to death with a silk scarf.

Friends of the family said Mrs.
Walchin some time ago went to Regina, Sask.
A six-page letter, police said,
was left by the father explaining the killing. He told of killing the three boys, saying that while he was choking the eldest to death the youngest awoke and whimpered,
"Mamma, mamma."

WIDOW SAYS WEALTHY HUSBAND KILLED SELF

Mrs. Gladys Beardslee Avers He Was Jealous and Started Fatal Quarrel.

By the Associated Press.

STRATFORD, Conn., April 30.—Mrs. Gladys Foster Beardslee, young widow of Oliver Beardslee, 51 years old, of Stratford, who died Thursday from a bullet wound, was ready to give her version of the shooting at the Coroner's inquest this afternoon which, she says, will refute the police charge that she fired the shot.

"I didn't shoot my husband," she said, "and I think the Coroner will believe my story."

Mrs. Beardslee referred to her husband throughout her recital as "Deaky," a pet name which she used in addressing him.

"They say I wasn't in a condition to know what happened that night but they're wrong in that," said Mrs. Beardslee. "I remember everything of the details of the quarrel which preceded the shooting. Just what Deaky said and did, and just what I did."

Declares Husband Shot Self.
"I don't think Deaky intended to shoot himself. I think he did it to scare me."

"When I saw the gun in his hand I said 'Don't do that,' but it was too late. He got up and staggered into the bathroom and I placed a pillow under his head, telling him I would run out and get a doctor."

"When I came back with the policeman and Dr. Heider I knelt down beside my husband and said, 'Speak to me, Deaky. Tell them how it happened,' but he didn't say anything."

"Dr. Heider turned to me and said, 'Did you do this?'"

"I turned on the doctor, as a recall, and facing him, grabbed him by the shoulders of the coat and said, 'What do you mean?' I was almost crazy at the thought that anyone would think I might have shot my husband."

"When they carried Deaky out to the ambulance I went with him to the hospital. I sat at the foot of the stretcher. I tried to get him to say something, but he didn't say a word."

Telling of the quarrel which preceded the shooting, Mrs. Beardslee said it followed the trip her husband and she made to Bridgeport to get some liquor at Jim Curcio's place. They went by trolley and she remained outside while her husband went in, she said.

"Just after he had joined me again Jim came along in his car and invited us to get in and he would drive us home," Mrs. Beardslee continued. "When we arrived at the house on King street Deaky asked Jim to come in for a while, but he said he had an important engagement and couldn't come in. He drove away and we went in and had something to eat before going upstairs."

Says Husband Was Jealous.
"It was while we were eating that Deaky said to me: 'It seems funny that when I go over to Jim's place alone he lets me come home alone, but when you come along he drives us home.'"

"I could see that he was jealous."

ous, although he hadn't any reason to be, and the argument started.

"After we had argued for some time we made up and I thought there weren't going to be any more words, but when we got upstairs another argument started about an old bill and there were bitter words about our financial situation. It was at that time that Deaky threw the flat iron at me, and broke things up in the room. Then he went to his room, while I remained sitting in the room where we had been arguing. Shortly afterward, just as I went across to his room, Deaky shot himself."

Beardslee was the son of wealthy parents. When the woman suggested amendment was proposed he talked against it and vowed he would never vote if women received the right to vote. He married in 1926. His widow, now 28, having been a telephone operator.

ROBBED WHILE IN PARK OF $34 AND AUTO KEYS

Charles D. Burns and Girl Companion Held Up Near Midnight; Other Thefts.

Charles D. Burns, 5088 Enright
avenue, and Miss Clara Allen, 5563
Delmar boulevard, seated in his automobile on Wells drive near Government drive in Forest Park at 11:40 o'clock last night, were held up by an armed man who robbed Burns of $34 and the keys to his car.

Jerome Wills, 4124 N. Kosuth avenue, driving in O'Fallon Park was crowded to one side of a road
by a man in another car who robbed him of $8.

Two employees of a Kroger store
at 2502 North Jefferson avenue were held up by two men who took $29 from the cash registers.

Investigating the robbery at the Quality Dairy Co., 4630 West Florissant avenue, yesterday afternoon,
when two men held up seven employees and drove away with $1526, police were given the license number of a car said to have been used by the robbers. The owner of the car, when questioned, said he had driven past the robbery scene on his way from a monument company. He convinced police his car had been mistaken for the robbers' auto.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION ASKED

TO COME TO ST. LOUIS COUNTY
Invited to Go Over the Ground
Before Deciding on Route for Superhighway No. 40.

County Highway Engineer Jablonsky of St. Louis County will go to Jefferson City tomorrow to present the written invitation of the County Court for the State Highway Commission and Chief Engineer Cutler of the State Highway Department to meet with the court and go over the ground before finally selecting the route for the superhighway to be established as a new county location for U. S.
Highway No. 40.

Jablonsky, representative of the County Chamber of Commerce and Conway road property owners also will participate. The invitation is to be handed to the secretary of the commission, with the request that that body come to Clayton at its earliest convenience.
The call for the hearing arises from the protest of Conway road property owners against use of that thoroughfare as part of the route
across the county of the new No. 40.

Chief Engineer Cutler has announced that he expected to go over the ground the latter part of this week. Chairman Matthews of the Highway Commission has expressed willingness to inspect the several suggested routes. The decision as to the route rests with the commission, but the County Court is using its good offices to bring about a generally satisfactory solution. The Conway residents have suggested use of Hilber road
as an alternative.

Brigadier-General Joe S. Harris
Succumbs to Heart Attack at LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Brigadier-General Joe S. Harris, 41 years old,

Adjutant-General of the Arkansas
National Guard, widely known lawyer, banker and business man, is dead. He succumbed to a heart attack shortly after returning home
from his office, where for the last 10 days he had been busily engaged with additional duties in connection with tonado and flood relief work.

Gen. Harris at one time in the World war was the youngest Col-

ZEPPELIN DAMAGED ON RECENT FLIGHT REPAIRED IN MIDAIR

Propeller Replaced on Cruise; Airship to Make Two Trips to U. S. This Year.

By the Associated Press.
FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany,
April 30.—Announcement was made yesterday of definite decision to start the dirigible Graf Zeppelin on its second flight to the United States with mail and passengers on May 15. The visit to Lakehurst, N. J., will be short. Later in the summer another round trip crossing is planned.

The dirigible returned several days ago from a second Mediterranean cruise and on Thursday will make a flight to Vienna.
It was learned yesterday that on April 24 while flying between Lisbon and Seville the shaft to a stern motor worked and the propeller had to be repaired in mid-air. The job took four hours and was said to be the first time in the history of aviation that a propeller has been replaced while a ship was in flight.

DECISION THIS WEEK ON CUTTING APPROPRIATIONS

Missouri Senate Committee to Consider Where to Slash $4,000,000 From House Bills.

By CURTIS A. BETTS, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 30.—The Senate Committee on Appropriations at a meeting late this week will consider slashes in the appropriations bills passed by the House, and will decide where to cut approximately $4,000,000 from the bills, or pass to Gov. Caulfield responsibility for an over-appropriation of the estimated revenues by that amount.

Senator Painter, chairman of the committee, has been combing the bills in an effort to reduce the total to approximately $18,000,000, the amount which he has estimated will be available for expenditure from the general revenue fund during the next two years. He will have recommendations of cuts which will bring the total within $500,000 of the estimate.

The Senator refused today to outline his recommendations in detail, putting his refusal on the ground that it was a matter for the committee to determine, and that until the committee passed on it there was no certainty of the action to be taken.

Institutions Will Lose.

It is known, however, that about $1,700,000 of the cut is in the appropriations for building needs of the institutions. The Senate committee has taken the building appropriations from the House bill and placed them in a separate bill, which contains a clause providing that none of the money allotted for buildings shall be available until the requisition shall have received the approval of the Governor.

This is merely a different method of reaching the same solution of over-appropriation as has been followed in the past. Heretofore the Governor has approved the bills with reservations, obtaining pledges from the heads of institutions that they would not use certain funds until he released them. The new method will relieve the Governor of the necessity of picking through all the bills to decide the appropriations which he will hold up.

Under a strict interpretation of the law the Governor has no right to withhold from expenditure any money appropriated by the Legislature, but in practical operation the government functions so that the Governor can control nearly all appropriations. The larger part of the State funds is expended through departments directly controlled by the Governor, and he can force any of them to postpone use of specific funds until he approves the expenditure.

No New Tax Measures.

Within a few days, or as soon as clerical work in checking over the House bills is completed, Senator Painter will call a meeting of the Senate Appropriations Committee for the consideration of his recommendations. The bills probably will be reported to the Senate by the end of the week, and they should be adopted, with amendments, early next week. They then will go to the House for concurrence in the amendments. House action on the Senate amendments is uncertain, but it virtually is certain that it will become necessary for each house of the Legislature to appoint members of a conference committee on each of the larger bills to attempt to iron out differences.

The Governor has expressed the hope that the Legislature will not send to him for his signature appropriation bills which exceed in amount the estimated revenues. In his inaugural message he asked that if appropriations were not kept within the revenues the Legislature provide additional revenues. No new tax measures have been passed. The House voted a tax of 5 cents per pound on malt, but the Senate has not acted on the bill.

AUSTRIAN CABINET FORMED AFTER 27-DAY INTERIM

Advocate of Union With Germany Replaces Pritsch as Prime Minister.

By the Associated Press. VIENNA, April 30.—Dr. Ernst Stresemann, industrialist and member of the Christian Socialist party today succeeded in forming a cabinet to replace that of Mgr. Ignaz Seipel, who resigned nearly a month ago.

For 27 days Austria was without a cabinet. There is no certainty that Dr. Stresemann's cabinet will be stable, since the Socialists look upon him with disfavor because of his active participation in the Austrian Fascist organization known as the Heimwehr.

Conrad Budke Jr. Will Filed. The will of Conrad Budke Jr., former secretary of the Nelson Chesman Advertising Co., who died April 23, was filed in Probate Court at Clayton today. One-third of his estate is left to his widow, Mrs. Mae Spring Budke of Webster Groves, and the balance is held in trust for his two small children, Conrad and Betty Lee. No estimate of the amount of the estate was made.

COOLIDGE'S LITERARY OUTPUT EXCEEDS MOST PROFESSIONALS'

Autobiography and Several Articles Written Since January; Editor Praises His Tenacity.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, April 30.—Although not a professional writer, Calvin Coolidge is credited by Ray Long, editor of Cosmopolitan Magazine, with a three and one-half months' writing output that might well be the envy of many of his professional contemporaries in letters.

Since January the former President has written his autobiography of 45,000 words, most of which already has appeared in serial form, and in addition several articles on peace and other subjects for various magazines.

Commenting on Mr. Coolidge's literary output, Long said he knew of few professional writers, "and no other public man who could equal" the former President's record. His economy in words also drew praise from Long, who said: "He has told in less than 45,000 words not only the complete story of his life but the complete story of our country during the dramatic years of this generation. In these days of long-winded autobiographies and biographies, that's a real achievement."

After the appearance of the concluding article of his autobiographical series, "The Scenes of My Childhood," in Cosmopolitan, the material is to be rearranged in chronological order and published in book form, Long said.

A finer car and for the FEW

PIERCE-ARROW has never been a car for the crowd. It couldn't be made in great numbers—and still be a Pierce-Arrow. The new Straight Eight is an example of why this is so.

Created by an expanding Pierce-Arrow organization—with vast resources in material and man-power—this ultra modern automobile is fine because its processes are individualized. Rare hand-craftsmanship is present throughout—every detail exquisitely wrought in the finest Pierce-Arrow tradition.

This new and most appealing Straight Eight will, of course, be widely sought. Its slender, low-swung grace finds instant favor with fine car owners, grown tired of stodginess and bulk.

Even so, fine car owners are in the minority, and there are just so many Pierce-Arrows—never so many as to become commonplace. Nor is this exclusiveness a matter of cost, as today's price range will evidence. It's just that Pierce-Arrow is made so fine it cannot be made for the many.

The Deans were married in Valparaiso, Ind., three months after Judge Joseph Sabath here had enjoined Dean against marrying Mrs. Lasher until his twenty-first birthday anniversary in August. The injunction was granted at the petition of Dean's father, a broker, in anticipation of a divorce decree to Mrs. Lasher, then the wife of a New York broker. It was understood at the time that young Dean had been disinherited.

Two months after their marriage the pair separated. Dean reprinted his wife missing and expressed the belief she had been kidnapped or killed. Her answer was the filing of a bill for divorce, which later was dropped and she returned to live with him. The Deans separated again yesterday, and a few hours later a new bill for divorce was filed. The case was continued until May 2, because Mrs. Dean said she was sensitive about exhibiting bruises and black eyes in court.

SENATE INQUIRY INTO MELLON TRIP TO CANADA URGED

Walsh of Montana Wants to Ascertain if It Had Anything to Do With Aluminum Company.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Inquiry into the nature of a visit to Canada by Andrew Mellon in 1925, and as to whether it was in the interest of the Aluminum Co. of America, was suggested before the Senate Judiciary Committee today as it argued over the right of the Secretary of the Treasury to hold that post.

Supporting the report of Chairman Norris that Mellon as a stockholder in various enterprises is violating the old statute forbidding the Secretary of the Treasury to be interested in carrying on trade or commerce, Senator Walsh (Dem., Mont.), raised the point of Mellon's purported Canadian visit.

Walsh has produced before the committee a deposition of Mellon in a lawsuit involving a claim against the Aluminum Co. of America. The suit was tried in 1925. The aluminum company was charged with violation of the antitrust law in the acquisition of land in Canada.

It was the understanding of Walsh that Mellon, who is a stockholder in the aluminum company, went to Canada and while there signed certain papers in connection with the land transactions.

The Montana Senator, however, informed the committee today that the record was "vague" on this point. He left the suggestion that further inquiry on this point would be advisable.

The law suit in which Mellon's deposition was taken was brought by a man named Haskell who claimed to have had an understanding with the Duke interests for the development of the Canadian tract for the manufacture of aluminum.

Haskell contended the Duke interests broke their contract with him and joined with the aluminum company for development of the Canadian land in violation of the antitrust law. The deposition of Mellon was taken at his home here by lawyers for Haskell.

Since the report of Chairman Norris was laid before the committee on Saturday, Walsh has held the attention of the committee on this law suit. It is the Montanan's contention that it tends to show that Mellon actually was interested in "carrying on" business.

ORGANIST WHOSE WIFE LET HIM WED ANOTHER PLEADS GUILTY

H. L. Leigh-Manuell, Who Married Pupil, 19, to Be Sentenced Friday for Bigamy.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Herbert L. Leigh-Manuell, a church organist who married his 19-year-old pupil while still married to another woman, pleaded guilty of bigamy here yesterday.

Both wives—one the mother of his four children—heard his plea. He will be sentenced Friday.

The organist married Martha Van Weyn of Sayville last December. His first wife, who witnessed the ceremony, said she regarded it as a "temperamental impulse" of her husband. After the wedding the girl's father took her home and locked her in her room and Leigh-Manuell returned to his first wife. Later, however, he was arrested and charged with peeping through a window in Miss Van Weyn's home.

A charge of being a public nuisance was dismissed when he pleaded guilty of bigamy.

PASTORS COMMEND HOOVER'S STAND ON LAW ENFORCEMENT

Alliance Calls on Christian Citizens to Strengthen Observance.

Prof. Werner Petermann of Eden Seminary, was the principal speaker yesterday at a meeting of the Ministerial Alliance at the First Presbyterian Church. He spoke on "The Theology of Crime."

The alliance passed a resolution commending President Hoover for his law enforcement stand and calling on Christian citizens to strengthen "law observance morale." Resolutions were adopted in favor of a reduction of naval armament; and urging an appropriation for an intermediate unit at the reform school at Booneville.

Judge Hogan of the Juvenile Court, suggested that the pastors encourage members of their congregations to provide temporary homes for neglected and delinquent children coming under the care of the Board of Children's Guardians. The matter was referred to a committee.

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO VISIT THE LINCOLN METROPOLITAN SALON OF FINE CUSTOM-DESIGNED MOTOR CARS

HOTEL CHASE
LINDELL BOULEVARD AT FOREST PARK, ST. LOUIS
MAY 1st TO 4th

THE Lincolns which you will see at the Metropolitan Salon this year are well worth your time and attention. For these cars represent all that human skill has achieved in the art of fine motor car making. Neither care nor expense is spared in making the Lincoln as nearly perfect a motor car as it is possible to produce.

These Lincolns are more beautiful than ever. The new body types are the work of the foremost custom coachmakers. They are distinguished by a new smartness, a new fleetness and grace. The lamps, the radiators, the exterior trimmings are chromium plated—which means tarnish-proof. The radiator, incidentally, is deeper, the fenders have an exhilarating sweep of line. The whole effect is swifter, lower, more eager. . . .

And there are corresponding mechanical improvements. The new rubber engine mounting, for example, which dampens motor vibration; the new all-enclosed six-brake system which brings you smoothly and instantly to a stop. . . . These and other refinements have been introduced quietly, in accordance with Lincoln's policy of constant improvement. There are no yearly models. Lincoln believes in building motor cars so fine, so good to look upon, that they are always smart.

The Lincoln is precision-made from start to finish. More than 100 operations are kept within limits of 1/5000 of an inch—1/15 of a hair's breadth. The motor is so accurately constructed that you do not even have to break it in. You can drive a Lincoln at your normal speed the very first day you own it!

And the Lincoln is an exceptionally safe car. Its center of gravity is low, so that it clings to the road. It has shatter-proof glass throughout. And it is tremendously strong. Every part is tested and retested many times. Every Lincoln represents approximately 30,000 separate inspections.

But perhaps the best understanding of the Lincoln as a fine motor car is to be gained from an examination of the car itself. You are cordially invited by the Brodhead Company to the Lincoln Metropolitan Salon in Hotel Chase, Lindell Boulevard at Forest Park, St. Louis, from May 1st to 4th. The hours are from 1 P. M. to 11 P. M.

Among the interesting mechanical exhibits will be a copper-plated display chassis, a cut-away motor, a parts board, a rear axle assembly, an intake manifold assembly, a crankshaft and fan assembly, an aluminum body, and a set of the famous Johansson gages used in the manufacture of Lincoln motor cars, which are accurate to four-millionths of an inch.

The body types will include the Two and Three Window Town Sedan, the Touring, the Seven-passenger Sedan, the Standard Limousine, the Willoughby Limousine, the Three-window Five-passenger Sedan, the Club Roadster, the Judkins Coupe, the Dietrich Convertible Coupe, and the LeBaron Cabriolet.

TRADE BOARD EFFECTS ADVERTISING REFORM

Magazine Agrees to Drop Fraudulent Notices From Its Columns.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 201-205 Kellogg Bldg.
WASHINGTON, April 30.—The Federal Trade Commission has announced to the newspapers the result of its campaign against fraudulent advertising, in the case of one magazine.

The publishers of this magazine, the name of which the commission does not make public, have signed a stipulation with the commission, in which they agree to cease publication of advertising which misrepresents either articles offered for sale or results obtainable from use of such articles.

It also is stated in the stipulation that if the publishers should ever resume any of the practices in question, the signed stipulation of facts may be used in evidence against it in the trial of the complaint which the commission may issue.

The text of the stipulation, made public without the names of the signers, contains the publishers' admissions as to the matter published by them. The matter in question appeared in the last January issue of the magazine, similar matter having appeared in some previous issues.

Admits Lack of Inquiry.
By the admission, the publishers "accepted for publication the advertisements without first making a reasonable investigation as to the standing, reputation or reliability of the advertisers, and without first making reasonable investigation as to the truth or accuracy of the representations made."

"New Youth-Giving Belt" was one of the advertisement headings. Pictures showed the figure of a man, before and after using the belt, first with sunken chest and protruding stomach, then with a normal shape.

The advertisement would import or imply, the commission said, that the figure was corrected by the use of the belt, "when in truth and in fact the aforesaid device did not quickly reduce the waist line or instantly make the wearer look thinner and younger, and the pictorial representations were not in accordance with results which were probable of immediate accomplishment by use of the device."

Doubts Ad of Auto Device.
A "glad" advertisement was another which, in the commission's view and by the publishers' admission, was "exaggerated and in excess of probable accomplishment."

Of different character was one of a "vaporizer" making it possible to run an automobile 40 miles on a gallon of gasoline. The heading of this was "My Tires Cost Me Nothing," meaning that the saving in gasoline paid for the tires. This also was held to be "in excess of probable accomplishment, and exceptional if true."

"Amazing Profit" was the caption over an investment advertisement which, the commission says, made "representations exaggerated, exceptional if true, and improbable of accomplishment by those without capital or experience."

"Blood Diseases," "For Men," "What Made My Hair Grow?" "Sex Explained," "Liquor and Drug Habit Cured or No Pay" and "Matrimonial" were the headings of other advertising matter which the commission asserted, and the publishers admitted, to be misleading and unreliable.

Marriage Agencies' Claims.
The matrimonial matter contained these statements, by a number of advertisers: "Would You Marry? Our Plan—You Win, We Win. Thousands of Happy Clients." "Ladies Worth $75,000 to $200,000. Quick Results Guaranteed." "Widow, 40, $75,000, photo and description free." "Wife Guaranteed in Six Months."

"When in truth and in fact," the commission comments, "the captions and the representations and statements were in many instances not founded in truth, and were otherwise misleading and confusing, and some of the representations were beyond the probability of accomplishment."

William E. Humphrey, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, in addressing business gatherings, has outlined the commission's policy of holding publishers equally responsible with advertisers for misleading and fraudulent advertising matter.

WABASH PLANS TO ESTABLISH SYSTEM IN THE EAST

Intervening Against Baltimore & Ohio, It Tells L. C. of Its Own Projected Plans.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Moving to intervene in an antitrust complaint made by the Interstate Commerce Commission against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, the Wabash Railroad Co. said yesterday it was developing a plan to establish one or more independent systems east of the Mississippi which would include the Wabash, Western Maryland, Wheeling & Lake Erie and the Pittsburgh & West Virginia railroads. Permission was granted the Wabash to intervene in the Baltimore & Ohio case in which the railroad is charged by the commission with obtaining stock in the Western Maryland Railroad in restraint of trade and in violation of the Clayton antitrust act.

The commission ordered the B. & O. to show cause why it should not be compelled to divest itself of its holdings in the Western Maryland.

"In power, ease of driving, and flexibility, the new Buick out-performs any car I have ever driven."

A. G. G., St. Louis, Mo.
(name upon request)

They got behind the wheel, got the facts, and bought Buicks!

The owner quoted above has been driving automobiles for 15 years, and has an intimate knowledge of motor car performance and value. Yet his enthusiastic comment merely typifies that of thousands who have turned to Buick after making their own exacting tests.

Not only have motorists in all parts of the country

accepted Buick's invitation to get behind the wheel and get the facts about Buick performance... not only have they made the most searching comparisons between this new Buick and other automobiles... but they have entered orders for more than twice as many Buicks as any other car priced above $1200! And almost without exception, those most outspoken in their praise of Buick are the men and women who have had the most extensive experience with automobiles!

Be sure to drive a Buick! Try it in traffic—on the straightaway—up the steepest hills. The more thorough your tests, the more careful your comparisons—the more inevitably will they lead you to Buick!

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., April 30.—The highest honor in American chemistry, the Priestley medal, was awarded by the American Chemical Society yesterday to Francis P. Garvan of New York.

The award was made for "distinguished service as the greatest lay patron of chemistry" in the United States. This medal is awarded only once in three years. There have been but two previous holders, the late Dr. Ira Remsen, president of Johns Hopkins University, and the late Edgar Fahs Smith, president of the University of Pennsylvania. The society adopted a resolution urging that Josiah Willard Gibbs be recognized in the Hall of Fame at New York University. Chemistry now is represented there. Gibbs is rated as the American who contributed most to chemistry.

U. S. TAX COLLECTIONS

GAIN $60,310,689

Returns for First Nine Months of Fiscal Year $2,137,478,647.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The Internal Revenue Bureau announces that Federal taxes collected during the first nine months of the 1929 fiscal year, which ended last March 31, exceeded those collected in the corresponding period last year by $60,310,689 and amounted to $2,137,478,647.

Of the total, income taxes aggregated $1,689,165,158, and miscellaneous taxes $448,013,489. The income collections were $74,000,000 more than collected in the corresponding period last year, while the miscellaneous taxes decreased by approximately $13,000,000.

The income taxes were accounted for by $762,304,114 from individuals, an increase of $119,000,000 over the corresponding period last year, and $926,861,044 from corporations, a decline of $45,000,000 as compared with the collections in the first nine months of 1928.

Of the increase in individual income taxes, New York State accounted for $62,000,000, returning a total income tax of $211,720,349. Its corporation tax dropped $9,400,000, however, as compared with the same period of the previous fiscal year, totaling $252,277,366. The State paid taxes from all sources amounted to $595,120,423.

North Carolina was second in the list with total tax payments of $184,976,543, an increase of $8,062,000 over the corresponding period of 1928. Of the total, $14,255,680 was income tax and $170,040,862 was miscellaneous taxes.

Illinois increased its income taxes for the first nine months by approximately $8,000,000 to $155,241,505, and its miscellaneous tax by about $600,000 to $15,705,517. Its total tax increased approximately $8,500,000 to $171,047,023. The total for Missouri was $49,326,751.

Pennsylvania's tax dropped in each division making a decrease of collections from all sources of approximately $8,000,000 with a total of $177,937,063.

The California corporation income tax increased by approximately $800,000 to $45,662,680 and the individual income tax increased by approximately $7,000,000 to $48,152,582. The California miscellaneous tax increased by about $2,000,000 to $12,241,741, making the total from all sources $113,058,011, an increase of $10,000,000.

The prosperity of individuals through the nation was indicated by only five states returning smaller totals of individual income taxes in the first nine months of the present year than they did last year. North Dakota returned $184,176 or about $2700 less than a year ago. Oklahoma returned $5,948,842 or a decrease of $1,500,000; Oregon a decrease of $56,000 to $1,798,000; Rhode Island a decrease of $140,000 to $5,232,349. The West Virginia individual income tax aggregated $2,209,356, a decrease of $257,000.

He had his own ship at the field, carrying passengers when not busy at his duties as field manager. Scott leaves for San Francisco today to take a position with an aerial transportation company at a higher salary. O. R. Parks, his assistant, is temporarily in charge of the field.

DRIVER IN AUTO CRASH SAYS HE IS A PRIEST

Name Not Listed in Catholic Directory—Found in Possession of Stolen Car.

A man who said he was the Rev. Anthony Marx, 47 years old, former chaplain of a Catholic orphanage at Detroit, Mich., was arrested last night when a stolen automobile he was driving collided with a parked car in front of 4523 South

Kingshighway and overturned. He was in clerical attire. The automobile was reported stolen from Kingshighway and Bancroft avenue 29 minutes previously by Roy Schaeffer, 6306 Bradley avenue. Marx was cut and bruised in the collision and is held prisoner at City Hospital. Inquiry by police disclosed no Rev. Anthony Marx in the directory of Catholic clergymen. The man said he has been a patient in a Los Angeles hospital for the last five years and was on his way to Detroit. He told police he bought the machine he was driving yesterday for $65 from an automobile dealer, but was unable to produce a bill of sale and could not describe the dealer. Detroit church authorities notified police they do not know a Father Marx.

FARRAR STREET WOMAN CLAIMS WELDONA RID HER OF RHEUMATISM

Pain and Stiffness of Joints Due to Rheumatic Arthritis Quickly Responded to Weldon Tablets

DEMAND FOR SIMPLE REMEDY GROWING BY LEAPS

"Both my husband and myself feel grateful toward Weldon for the wonderful help we have received," said Mrs. Mary Henningfeld of 2521

"I read in the papers how others had been helped right here in St. Louis by Weldon and decided to try it. I am glad I did for in a short time the pain and stiffness left me. I can now button my dress, comb my hair and do my work without discomfort. Weldon has done more for me than I ever hoped for or thought possible for a remedy for rheumatism. If anyone wishes to verify my statement I would be glad to have them call, write or telephone—TYler 1310W."

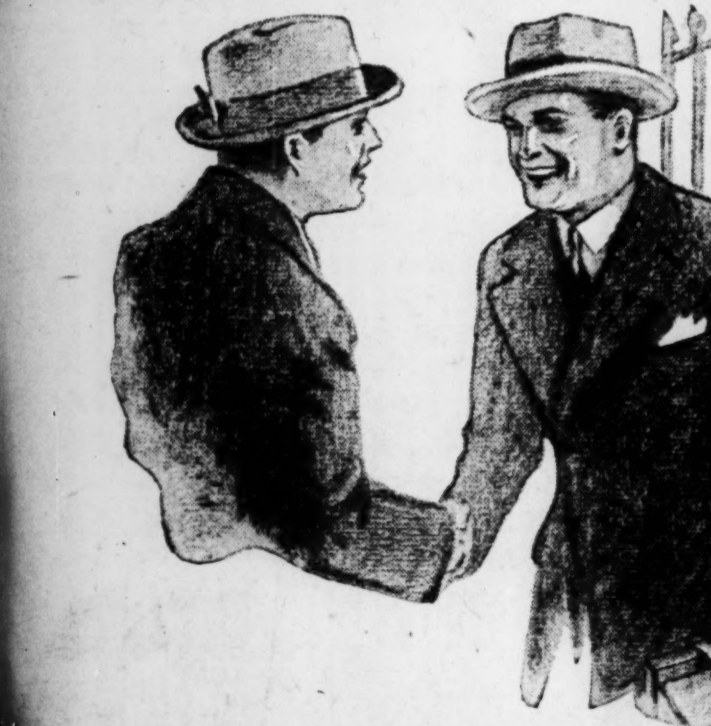

MRS. MARY HENNINGFELD.

Farrar street. Mrs. Henningfeld continued: "I suffered with rheumatism in my right shoulder down to my hand. My arms were sore and stiff and my fingers so stiff that I was unable to button my dress; it was difficult for me to get my hand to my head."

$1000 reward to anyone proving this testimonial is not genuine.

Weldon tablets are always put up in a box—never in a bottle. Ask for Weldon tablets, which are recommended for rheumatism and rheumatic conditions only. Weldon tablets are absolutely harmless and will not upset the stomach, affect the heart or any other organ.

The Weldon representative, who now meets the public every day at Walgreen's Drug Store, 514 Washington Av., St. Louis, gladly explains more about this remedy and gives out the 24-page illustrated book, entitled "Germs of Rheumatism," which are absolutely free of charge to all who call or write for them.

D. H. LAWRENCE NOVEL SEIZED AT POSTOFFICE

Books Sent From Italy to Taos, N. M., Taken From Mails Here.

Several copies of a limited edition of "Lady Chatterley's Lover," by D. H. Lawrence, mailed from Italy, where 1909 volumes were privately printed in 1928, to members of the Taos colony of artists and writers in New Mexico, have been seized by customs officials in the St. Louis Post Office as obscene.

Opening and examination of foreign mail packages by custom officials is a routine requirement of the law. St. Louis is a mail distributing center for New Mexico. The examiner had passed two or three copies of the book, in respect for the name of the author and the excellent writing for the first paragraphs, when he chanced to open another copy at a page which changed his estimate. He looked further, and a circular was issued notifying officials in other distributing centers of the nature of the novel.

One woman protested in a letter touching on Lawrence's eminence and asking who had the right to order destruction of a work of genius. The reply was that the book, which likens Lady Chatterley to a sea anemone and her lover to a moss in rhymed passages, was one of the most flagrant which had fallen into the hands of the examiner, and she consented to its destruction.

The novel is an outspoken study of the long-thwarted mother instinct in a woman whose husband was paralyzed by wounds suffered in the World War. Lawrence is a noted English author of somewhat analytical style. His works include "Aaron's Rod," "The Rainbow," and "Sons and Lovers."

All those to whom copies were mailed have consented to destruction of the books except Willard Johnson of Taos, publisher of "Laughing Horse," who was to have received three volumes. Although Post Office inspectors have said that the volumes might be destroyed, customs officials are waiting upon Johnson's consent. In those rare cases where court action is taken against importers of matter considered obscene, conviction may mean $5000 fine and five years' imprisonment.

EX-COLLEGE TENNIS CHAMPION ARRESTED WITH GIRL IN HOTEL

CHICAGO, April 30.—Lucian E. Williams, former intercollegiate tennis champion, today awaited a hearing on a charge resulting from an investigation by a private detective employed by his wife of eight months. He was arrested yesterday in a Gold Coast hotel room with Miss Alice Krueger, a hairdresser.

Mrs. Williams was reported to be too ill to discuss the affair, but her mother, Mrs. W. C. Crowley, related the circumstances leading to her son-in-law's arrest.

Williams and Miss Crowley, then 18, daughter of a wealthy Detroit merchant, met two years ago at a Saddle and Cycle Club ball. Mrs. Crowley said. They were married last August in New York.

Two months ago Mrs. Williams complained to her mother that she was being mistreated by the former Yale athlete and a separation followed. A series of anonymous telephone calls concerning her husband prompted Mrs. Williams to employ a detective. Her mother said, resulting in yesterday's raid. The trial of Williams and Miss Krueger was called yesterday, but was continued at the request of defense counsel until May 8.

ASA KEYES IS REPORTED ILL

Former Los Angeles Prosecutor In Jail Hospital.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 30.—Asa Keyes, former district attorney, in jail here awaiting action on his appeal from conviction on a bribery charge, was reported today to be suffering from a kidney ailment and bronchial trouble, Dr.

Benjamin Blank, jail physician, said Keyes' health had declined gradually since his confinement in February. He was removed from his cell to the jail hospital six days ago.
Keyes, who is 52 years old, declined to discuss his illness. "I am not asking for sympathy and do not care for any publicity about it," he said. Keyes, convicted with Ben Getzoff and Ed Rosenberg on the bribery charge growing out of the Julian Petroleum Corporation fraud cases, was sentenced to one to 14 years in San Quentin prison. Getzoff, who has been in a Pasadena hospital for treatment of a stomach ailment since the trial, was called to appear before a grand jury today to give evidence, which District Attorney Buron Fitts has declared would "rock Los Angeles County when made public." Getzoff made a confession after his conviction.

WORK ON MISSOURI RIVER DELAYED BY SPRING FLOOD

Navigation Project Two Months Behind Plans, U. S. Engineer Decks.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, April 26.—Lieut. J. M. Young of the United States Engineers Office here yesterday said the Government's plan to make the Missouri River navigable has been delayed two months by the unusual spring flood conditions and late ice.

Flood stage of the river will necessitate an additional week or 10-day delay before work can be resumed, Young said. In the event of heavy rains again the river may not lower enough to permit work before the June rise sets in.

There are 100,000 feet of dikes to be built by private contract and 60,000 feet by the Government, according to statistics from the United States Engineers' office. In addition to 27,000 feet of revetments to be laid by private contractors and 46,000 feet by the Government.

The three major jobs in the stretch between here and St. Louis will be done by the Government. They are, Sni Bend, west of Lexington; Malta Bend, east of Waverly; and Dundee Reach.

MIVIDA, THE FAVORITE, IS THIRD; WINNER
REFUNDS 5 TO 1

By the Associated Press.
JAMAICA, N. Y., April 30.—The Howe Stable's Double Pay, an added starter, won the Long Beach Claiming Handicap here today. His victory was a hard-earned one and it took his very best effort to gain the purse. The Fair Stable's War Flier was second, and Doc Cassidy's Mivida, odds-on favorite, third. The mile and 70 yards were run in the fast time of 1:44 2-5 and the winner paid 5 to 1. The start was good and the field went away in a bunch. War Flier was the quickest to get into his stride and led around the paddock turn. In the next furling Juggler ran into the lead with Sanford, his stable mate, second, while Double Pay was third. However, around the big turn McCoy, who had the mount, began to send Double Pay along. The colt responded gamely and in a furious drive got on to win by a neck. War Flier came fourth in the stretch and finished a good second, beating Mivida half a length for the place. All the horses were entered to be claimed for $12,000.

wards for the placing horses. Already two big 3-year-old offerings have been distributed and a total of more than $45,000 divided among the successful contenders. These events were the Tijuana and Louisiana derbies. The major events to come include the following:

The Kentucky Derby, worth about $65,000; the Kentucky Derby, value about $65,000; the Belmont Stakes, another $65,000 event; the Classic Stakes, which will be run for the first time at Chicago (Arlington) this year, with $40,000 added money; the American, Fairmount and Landon derbies, each worth more than $25,000; the Potomac and the Dwyer stakes, which pay the winner around $20,000 each; the Withers, last year worth more than $25,000; and the Landon championship, the Lawrence Realization Stakes and the Traversa Stakes, each of which will aggregate around $35,000.

Many Retired, Aged Three.

THE 2-year-olds are quite handsomely treated in several events, one of which, the Belmont Futurity, has a greater aggregate value than any 3-year-old stake. But the total of money prizes offered for the youngsters exclusively, in major stakes, is considerably under the offerings for three-year-olds.

One naturally assumes, as the reason for favoring 3-year-olds, that it is at this age thoroughbreds reach their racing "peak." But probably that is not the real reason nor is it the truth. Many thoroughbreds do not reach top of their form as 3-year-olds. Horses in other days reach longer and grey better, with years. They were not officially classed as "aged" until they reached seven years.

Extremism was a conspicuous example; and there have been good horses, like the jumper Sergeant Murphy, able to win great classics at 14 years of age. The real reason for classing a racer's career at the age of 3 is the growth of the breeding industry. Owners develop their racing stock during the two and 3-year-old periods. Those fortunate enough to win rich stakes and show themselves to be unusual horses have their racing careers stopped right there. They are retired to the breeding farm, where they prove more profitable and useful.

WASHINGTON WINS FROM CONCORDIA, 4-0, AND TIES TITLE SERIES

BECKMAN HURLS FOR BEARS AND ALLOWS ONLY 4 SCATTERED HITS

By Jerry Bernoudy

Captain Bill Beckman was at his best yesterday afternoon, and as a result the Washington University baseball team scored a 4-0 triumph over the Concordia Seminary on Liggett Field in the second game of the series to decide the city collegiate championship. Each team now owns one victory, so a third and deciding contest will be played next month after the Bears return from a road trip.

Four scattered hits were all the Preachers were able to garner off Beckman and in addition he struck out nine batters and did not walk a single opponent. Edwin Paul, the Concordia hurler, also pitched a stellar game, allowing only three hits, but his teammates made several errors in the third and fourth frames which, coupled with the Bears' hits enabled them to score four runs.

After going down in one-two-three fashion in the first two innings the Bruins broke loose for a pair of markers in the third. Freeman, right fielder, got the first hit off Paul when he singled. Smith put down a sacrifice bunt. Wagner raled a high fly out to center field which looked like an easy out, but Dobbleson lost the ball in the sun, allowing Wagner to reach second and Freeman third. Paul tried to catch Freeman third, but Freeman scored. "Warpy" Christiansen followed with a perfect squeeze play bunt to score Wagner.

The hilltoppers made their margin of victory more decisive by showing over two more runs in the following inning. Coover and Hornsby opened with singles. Coover taking third. He scored when Meyer hit a long sacrifice fly out to Weldman. Hornsby went to third base on Beckman's sacrifice and scored when Gesswein made a wild throw to first in an attempt to retire Freeman.

Washington will oppose the Kansas Jayhawkers here in a two game series, Friday and Saturday. The Jayhawkers are at present tied with the Kansas Aggies for the lead in the Big Six race.

LABARBA WILL BECOME BROKER AFTER RETIRING

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A splendidly muscled Italian boy, curly black hair, damp with perspiration, body sinews rippling under the hands of his trainer, lay on a rubbing table in a stuffy gym. He looked like a college student, with his dark pleasant features unmarred by glove wounds.

Fidel Labarba, one-time Olympic titleholder and flyweight champion of the world, isn't a college athlete and never can be one because of his professional career in the prize ring, but his thoughts and ambitions today are centered on the campus of Stanford University in Palo Alto, Cal.

I want to win the bantamweight title, and after it once or twice," Fidel said as the rubber industriously pried his back muscles and nodded agreement. Outside the cell-like rubbing room, jump ropes slapped on the floor, punching bags rattled against top boards and a few spectators cheered a sparring match in the training ring. This was fight talk that rhymed with the surroundings.

To Go Back to College.

"Then I'm going back to college, back to Stanford, and finish my education. Later I shall learn the brokerage business." This was not fight talk and amazed the rubber so that he spilled his lotions all over the floor.

My friend, once a newsboy in Los Angeles, quit the ring as flyweight champion in 1927 and enrolled as a freshman at Stanford. He completed the school year, passing all subjects, and was married in the spring of 1928.

"College life was great," he said. "I did well in my studies, smoked a pipe, had lots of knickers, and 'made' the fraternity I wanted. But I learned other things as I went along."

I had enough money to live comfortably, a car and everything, but I realized that I might just as well get all I could while still young and in my prime. So I came back to the ring, 10 pounds heavier, stronger and more capable. Once I've won that bantam title I shall go back to school and never fight again."

Would Like to Play Football.

Fidel, at 25, has all the eagerness and pride of a sophomore in his college, his fraternity and the attractive things about Stanford he believes make the university the finest in the land. Despite lack of poundage, he'd like to play quarterback on one of Stanford's great football teams or forward on the basketball five. However, he doesn't resent the college attitude that his professional activities in the ring have made him a professional in all sports.

The soft-spoken collegian, who boxes the flashy "Keeb Chocolate" here May 21, returned recently from a combined business trip and honeymoon to Australia where he won four matches.

T. CLAIR STAR HAS LOW SCORE OF COMPETITION WITH 73 TOTAL

By W. J. McGoogan
Walter Kossman, professional of the St. Clair Country Club, East St. Louis, won first prize among the professionals in the opening pro-amateur tournament of the Missouri Professional Golfers' Association at Glen Echo yesterday with a score of 73.
With his partner, Richard Fitzgerald of Greve Coeur Golf Club, Kossman won the first prize among the pro-amateurs. Fitzgerald shot an 82 for the 18 holes and received 14 strokes handicap. The competition was on a best ball basis. The team had a score of 61.
Stockton Summers, Westborough, tied with Don Bender, Algonquin, for first prize for low score among the amateurs. Each had a 77 gross score and each received a handicap of three strokes, making their net total 74.
40 Compete in Tourney.
A field of 40 competed in the event. There were 13 professionals, 13 amateurs and four amateurs designated as specialists, who paired with other amateurs after the supply of professionals ran out.
Second prize in the pro-amateur division was split between two teams, Joe Henry, North Hills pro, and C. L. Casale of Woodlawn having a best ball of 64, which was the same as Homer Herpel of Hillcrest and R. J. Morrison of Greve Coeur.

Sandy Auchterlonie, Normandie, took second prize among the professionals with a 74.
Kossman's card:
Out . . . 5 5 5 4 3 2 4 4 3—26
In . . . 5 4 6 4 3 4 5 3 4—27—73
Clarke Morse in Hospital.
It was announced that Clarke Morse, assistant professional at the Forest Park Golf Club, did not play in the tournament due to the fact that he is in a hospital to undergo an operation for appendicitis and would be unable to play for some time.
The "best ball" score by a team of two players is figured on the best score made by either on each hole as the team's score for the hole. For instance if a scratch man playing with a handicap player shoots a five on the first hole, and his partner gets a four and is entitled to a stroke on that hole is three. Should they each get a five, and the handicapped player be entitled to a stroke on the hole, the best ball score would be a four.
May 27 is the date for the next pro-amateur event. The course on which it is to be held is to be announced later.
Rules May Be Changed.
With the St. Louis District Golf Association holding a monthly tournament for amateurs and the Missouri Professional Association holding one each month for pros and amateurs, it is likely that the two organizations will get together and arrange their dates so that each event will be about two weeks apart to give those who wish to do a better opportunity to play in both contests.
Art Longworth, professional at the St. Louis Country Club and president of the professional association, stated that there likely would be several changes in the manner of holding pro-amateur events in the future, designed to make the competition more attractive for the high score player.

PREP LEAGUE NOTES
By Robert W. Herr.
With the first round of the Prep League baseball schedule nearing completion, the best work of the season to date seems to be that of the pitchers. Scores have been uniformly low and most of the runs counted have been unearned. No team has been able to gather more than seven hits in a game, and the average for the six contests played thus far shows that the hurlers have allowed 4.7 hits per game. Lack of proper support has been in evidence, however, and no team has committed fewer than two errors in a game, the miscues of most of the nines averaging close to 4 a contest.
John Duvic, veteran C. B. C. star, with two victories in as many starts, has the best record. Duvic has yielded but four hits in the two tilts, setting McBride down with three safeties and allowing the Western Cadets but one safety in four and two-thirds innings. Duvic is pitching his third and last season for the Brothers, and is one of the few four-sport men in local high school circles, having won letters in basketball, ice hockey, tennis and baseball.
Other victorious pitchers are Sig Krygiel, St. Louis U. High star, who won over Codaso, allowing the county squad six hits; Hummel of St. Louis, who defeated C. B. C. in the first game of his high school career; and Durbin of McBride, who let Western down with five hits to capture a 5-4 decision.
Plenty of Long Swats.
While the hits average is low, each of the teams has made its share of extra base hits. Western has two home runs, Miller and Andros having connected for the circuit; Kaveney and Mueller have slammed out four-baggers for McBride; Devine has hit a homer for C. B. C. and Schultebeck has rapped out a triple for St. Louis. With a homer, a triple and four singles in eight trips to the plate, Devine is well out in front in the individual averages.
The league tennis season will start May 10. As Chaminade, last year's winner, has dropped out of competition, a new champion will be crowned. A number of the schools have strong teams. C. B. C. has four 1928 regulars, Capt. Walther, Houlihan, Duvic and Biemer, as a nucleus for this season's squad, with Lamb, baseball and basketball star, as a likely looking candidate.
In John Bloeker and Jack Hughes, McBride has two promising tennis players with a season of experience, and Kearney and Dan Kelly, who of the newcomers seem most likely to gain regular positions. The Colonaders will get into action against the Washington U. freshman squad, May 8. At St. Louis U. High, Imholtz is the only regular returning among a squad of 30 candidates.
Stars in Sprint Races.
Though the annual league track and field meet is more than three weeks off, coaches at the various schools are prepping their charges for the event. From present indications, the greatest competition will come in the dashes. At least three schools will enter excellent sprinters. Tierney of St. Louis has been running away with most of the races he has entered, and has approached the league record in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Bottler of Country Day has also shown well at these distances, capturing both in a recent four-school meet, and has been winning the broad jump with regularity. Ryan of McBride is another sprinter who will have to be reckoned with, as he has run the dashes in flashy style, and in addition is a threat in the broad jump. Holloran of St. Louis is also doing well in the short distances and has been clearing close to 20 feet in the broad jump.

WISCONSIN DEFEATS
CHICAGO U. NINE, 5 TO 1
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 30.—After years of futile effort, Wisconsin appears to have a strong contender for the Big Ten baseball championship.
The Badgers scored their second straight conference victory yesterday by defeating Chicago, 5 to 1. Thelander held the Martons to three hits, duplicating the pitching performance of his mound mate, Farber, who fanned Indiana by the same score Saturday.
By their victory, the Badgers gained on Michigan, which has won its only game.
Illinois virtually shoved Iowa out of the championship picture, blanking the Hawkeyes, 5 to 0, at Champaign. Each team has lost two games.
The first step in deciding the baseball championship of Indiana was on today's program, with Indiana tackling Notre Dame in a non-conference battle at South Bend.
Spence Harris "Goes Back"
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, April 29.—Spencer Harris, crack Association outfielder, who led his league last year in hitting, has been sent back to Minneapolis by the Nationals, it was announced today.

DIABOLO WINS OVER VICTORIAN IN DIXIE STAKE

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 30.—Coming from behind in the stretch, Diavolo, 4-year-old chestnut colt from the Wheatley Stable, nosed out Victorian to win the $25,000 Dixie Handicap as the spring racing season opened at Pimlico under ideal weather conditions yesterday.
Seventeen other veteran thoroughbreds started in the rich Maryland turf event, but the race was strictly a Diavolo-Victorian affair with the Wheatley silks flashing under the wire a nose in front of Victorian. Victorian, winner of the Preakness last year, and Victor, on his first time out this season at Havre de Grace, was the favorite.
With R. Workman up, the 1928 Preakness winner jumped out in front at the rise of the barrier and seemed to be well on to his second victory of the current season as the field straightened out into the stretch. But the gallant son of Whisk Broom II-Vexatious, which had scored an impressive victory last week at Jamaica, rushed up, took seventh position to challenge the bay colt carrying the colors of the Elias Mason of Lexington, Ky.

The two horses battled stride for stride through the last 100 yards. With Jockey J. Malibon urging him on Diavolo made one last bid for victory and thrust his nose out in front as the two runners flashed under the wire. The time for the mile and one-sixteenth was 2 minutes flat and the winner paid $21.70 for each $2.50 bet.
The victory was worth $27,600 to the owner of Diavolo.
Trailing Victorian in third place, was Display in the silks of W. J. Salmon. Of the 19 horses named to start only Volter, which was out at Havre Saturday, was scratched.
In a blanket finish, the Jaded Stable's Gregory, with P. McAtee astride, scored a nose victory over T. M. Cassidy's Metellian with R. T. Wilson's Play Ball third in the Montauk claiming stakes, the feature event of the day's card at Jamaica.
NEW YORK BOXERS WIN
IN INTER-CITY BOUTS
NEW YORK, April 30.—New York amateur boxers won seven out of 11 bouts in the intercity tournament held here last night under A. A. U. auspices. Boston scored two victories, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh one each and Montreal none.
The winners included Tony Marino, Pittsburgh, and Parice Apice of Boston, national junior 112-pound champion.

MARYLAND BODY TO HOLD DUNDEE TO HIS PROMISE

BALTIMORE, April 30.—Joe Dundee, welterweight champion of the world, and his manager, Max Waxman, must appear before the Maryland Boxing Commission next Monday to give definite assurance that the fighter will defend his title before June 25, in accordance with a promise made the commission when the National Boxing Association declared Dundee's title forfeited for non-defense several weeks ago.
The action of the Maryland commission came at its meeting yesterday when officials of that body said they understood the scheduled championship bout between Dundee and Al Mello of Boston had been called off by the promoters due to the poor attendance at the last meeting between the champion and the Boston fighter.
Latrobe Cogswell, former president of the N. B. A., and Fred C. Schanberger, member of the commission, said that Dundee must give assurances of an early defense of his title.

"I'm proud to certify CREMO"

Alfred W. McCann
D. Litt., A.B., LL.D.
Noted pure food expert

"The day of the disgusting cigar factory, with its stuffy, dark, ill-ventilated work-rooms—an ideal culture for germs—has, I hope, to a great extent passed," Alfred W. McCann asserts.

He is impressed by the fact that at the Cremo factories every sanitary precaution known to modern hygiene is none too good for Cremo.

The Cremo factories are protected by white walls and plenty of sunlight—safeguards of cleanliness.

"No wonder," says Alfred W. McCann, "that Cremo is a cigar that can be trusted by smokers who want enjoyment and safety, too. Every tobacco leaf entering the Cremo factory is scientifically sterilized by U. S. Government approved methods."

He says we ought to call our Cremo factories "the Cremo sanitary kitchens" because in cleanliness they are precisely what all food factories ought to be.

"I am glad to certify Cremo cigars," says Dr. McCann, "so that men who enjoy a good cigar need not fear to put Cremos to their lips."

Alfred W. McCann—fearless, unbiased, Alfred W. McCann's expert testimony has been used by the Department of Justice, the Attorney General of New York, the District Attorney and the Corporation Counsel's Office in 210 prosecutions of food frauds. He has never lost a case. His endorsement of a product is the sterling mark of purity and quality.

The certified cigar-5¢

In addition to the health protection outlined by Alfred W. McCann, Cremo gives you the greatest possible cigar enjoyment, being made of selected tobaccos, all ripe and mellow. Over $7,000,000 was spent in perfecting the method and means of manufacture that in Cremo insure uniformly fine cigars. Cremo comes to you fresh, germ-free and crush-proof—being individually foil wrapped.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MADISON, Wis., April 30.—A united effort to free themselves
from the monopoly that has been enjoyed by the big private utility companies operating in the State, is being made by Wisconsin cities
and villages.

Should the municipalities win,
the power and other utility interests in the State will lose privileges which they value at millions. The utility interests have prepared for a fight to block passage of a group of bills on which the Assembly Judiciary Committee resumes hearings here today after a three-day session last week.

The bills, drawn by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, and manipulated by 450 representatives of 150 cities and villages, have been introduced into the Assembly by two Progressive and one Salway Republican As-semblymen, all three of whom are members of the Judiciary Committee.

The three include Alvin C. Reis, Progressive floor leader in the Assembly and chairman of the Judiciary Committee, so chances are good that the bills will be recommended for passage by the committee. Both the Insull and Byllesby companies are represented at the hearings by able counsel and lobbyists, including W. J. Hagen, vice president of the Byllesby company.

Mayors Assail Utilities.
For three days last week the utility men listened to about four hundred city and village attorneys and Mayors, including Mayor Dan Hoan of Milwaukee, condemn their operation practices and attack their rates.

The bills aim to reclaim for the State the rights it surrendered in 1911 when the Legislature passed the indeterminate permit law.
In obtaining the indeterminate
law, the utilities argued that capital would be attracted to Wisconsin and develop its power sites if the companies could be assured that competing plants would not be built. Relieved of competition, they said, the efficient methods of big companies would produce power at a minimum cost with resultant low rates.

The permit for the operation of any plant according to their plan was to be indeterminate, with the city or village reserving the privilege of taking over the property at any time if it felt the rates were unfair or service unsatisfactory.

Mayors and other city representatives testified before the committee last week that special favors were given the cities from which the utility firms bought local plants or received permits to build. Milwaukee, for example, received the privilege of having its policemen
ride the street cars free of charge
and was given current for lifting its bridges. Other cities received other special grants.

Built State Network.
Then, it was explained by O. S.
Loomis, city attorney of Mauston
and a member of the judiciary committee, the big utilities proceeded,
by buying small plants and building in places where there was none,
to develop a network throughout the State.

Rate controversies arose, and when a city, failing to effect the rate reduction it felt to be just,
sought to take advantage of the indeterminate permit law to buy its plant back, it found that the company's idea of a "reasonable figure" included not only a good price for the physical assets and going concern, but an additional heavy figure called "severance charges," or damages to the entire system
through the loss of one plant.

At a valuation of $14,000 placed on the Mauston, Wis., plant when that little city tried to buy it, Assemblyman Loomis said, was added $11,000 for "going value" and $77,000 for severance charges. The severance damages were thus more than double the going value the company placed on the plant, and six times what the property originally cost the company to buy.

One of the bills before the committee would permit a city or village to build a competing plant if it felt that it could not obtain satisfactory rates and service from the private utility operating in its territory.

Another severance was pointed out by J. W. Lefevre, City Attorney at Kaukauna, Wis. The indeterminate permit, he said, gives the utility which has been an obstacle in a township the exclusive right to provide electric service in that township.

Declares Stock Speculation
In the U. S. Is Endangering World Financial Structure

John Foster Dulles, Addressing International Commerce Chamber, Warns Against Enormous Absorption of Money.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, April 30.— American leaders of industry and finance were told here last night that stock speculation in this country is endangering the financial stability of the world. Speaking before the American section of the International Chamber of Commerce, John Foster Dulles, noted
ambassador on international trade,
warned that the enormous absorption of money by the New York Stock Market has become a positive menace to the general credit structure.

Dulles vigorously defended the Federal Reserve Board for having taken steps to reduce the volume of loans for speculative purposes, and admonished its critics that the situation is serious. He said:

"The problem with which we are faced does not involve deciding whether or not stock prices are too high, or whether brokers' loans are inherently excessive, or whether the Federal Reserve Banks have legal power which I do not understand they assert to discriminate against any class as the requirements of credit. There is a real danger that our credit base cannot, under present conditions, meet speculative demands and also meet the economic needs of the nation
as a whole."

Believes Men to Heed.
"The last 10 years have witnessed a credit policy which met our national needs and brought unprecedented prosperity. When those who have administered that policy are imperiled, it behooves prudent men to heed, and not to rail at it."

The harmful effects of speculation on credit have been felt as seriously in Europe as at home, Dulles declared. As a result of the flow of money to the United States, attracted by the high interest rates paid by speculators, foreign banks have been losing money at the rate of $100,000,000
a month, at a time when usually they are augmenting their reserves
for the seasonal demands of summer and autumn.

"Money," he said, "inevitably flows to the point where it commands the highest rates. Consequently there has been a sucking
in of money to New York, not only from all parts of this country, but also from abroad. When call money will bring 20 per cent, New York, the available short term money of the world starts moving in that direction. It is impossible for foreign central banks
to compete with the rates that stock speculators are willing to pay."

Foreign Flow Continues.
"One after another, the foreign central banks have raised rates
to meet the situation, but the flow continues. There has been an abnormal demand upon them for dollar exchange, which their patrons are using, not to buy American goods, but to loan to American brokers.

"At a time when the foreign central banks normally would be building up their exchange position to meet the heavy seasonal demands of summer and fall, they have been losing gold at the rate of $100,000,000 a month. Such a situation cannot continue long without realizing the dangers which were forecast 10 years ago, but which thus far have been successfully avoided."

A few hours before the utterance of these Dulles words, Charman McFadden of the House Committee on bank and currency, introduced a bill which would empower the Federal Reserve Board to terminate the membership of state banks in the Federal Reserve System at its discretion, and also would permit those banks to withdraw without the present six-month notice. It was explained that one object of the bill was to strengthen the power of the board to enforce its policies, by enabling it to cut adrift the state member banks which decline to follow the board's advice.

The introduction of the bill, followed by Dulles speech last night,
is likely to stimulate a revival of the discussion that recently raged
among members of Congress over the actions of certain bankers in defying the board's efforts to restrict the use of credit for speculative purposes.

Readjustment Will Follow Speculation, Young Declares.
By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 30.—
"Joy A. Young, governor of the Federal Reserve Board, said here yesterday that a natural readjustment of the stock market will follow the wave of speculation, and there is no reason for 'tinkering'
with the Federal Reserve System
because of the sensational market movements. Young, who is in Los Angeles to inspect the site of a new branch building of the system,
declared:

"The fact that the Federal Reserve banking system has been in existence 14 years with hardly a change shows the perfection with which it was drafted and I see no reason for tinkering with it."
Criticism that the system's functions have failed to keep abreast with changing economic conditions brought the reply that "there is plenty of elasticity in the system and that the very fact that it will be stretched too far is one of its strongest pillars of security."

"Minor technical alterations are being made," Young said, "but the principles on which it operates are sound."
A shipment of $3,000,000 of gold
from Germany arrived on the liner
Hamburg, making more than $50-000,000 transferred here for German currency as a result of the depression in Germany.

Since March, when the present
movement of gold started, $20-000,000 of gold has been sent from Berlin to New York. In addition,
Germany has figured in about $25,000,000 of gold transactions
here through a triangular arrangement with Paris.

By a Staff Correspondent of the

JEFFERSON CITY, April 30.—
Attorney-domination of the Senate, which has operated throughout the legislative session to defeat all measures tending toward reform of the antiquated criminal procedure in Missouri, suffered its first defeat yesterday. In defeat, though, the anti-reform attorneys their lines for ultimate success.

Senator Haymes of Springfield,
one of the progressive attorneys,
offered an amendment to a pending statute revision bill to correct
the actions of the present law and to authorize a Circuit Judge to assess the penalty in first or second degree murder cases when a jury returned a verdict of guilty
but was unable to agree upon the punishment. After much debate,
Haymes' amendment was adopted,
9 to 8, just half the membership of the Senate being present and voting.

At the time the bill was being considered in committee of the whole, the customary procedure
when amendments to a bill have been adopted in committee to rise and report the bill to the Senate.
This measure was being handled by Senator Terry of Festus, and after he and his fellow attorneys opposing code revision had suffered defeat by the adoption of the Haymes amendment, further action was postponed until the morrow. The bill was called up again when there were more Senators present, and the attorney combine will be working.

1925 Act Unconstitutional.
In 1925, the Legislature passed the Holcomb law, which was considered the very best of the provisions of which was the Haymes amendment of yesterday. The 1925 bill, however, failed to repeal a section of the law directing that in first-degree murder cases the penalty should be death or life imprisonment, as the jury should decide. The Supreme Court recently held the 1925 act unconstitutional because of this failure.

Haymes early in this session introduced a bill to correct the defect, but it virtually has been killed by the Judiciary Committee, the membership of which consists entirely of attorneys. The bill has been held in the committee, and probably will die there.

Haymes was given a possible opportunity to correct the error yesterday when one of the statute
revision bills was up, and offered his amendment. Senators Ralph Terry and Cave, attorneys, attacked
the amendment, while Haymes was supported by arguments of three attorneys, Williams, Whitecotton and Wannack. Haymes pointed out in his argument that without the amendment to the law there was a chance of miscarriage of justice and of the escape of murderers.

Cites Supreme Court Decision.
He told of one case, that in which the Supreme Court decision was rendered, in which three persons were killed by one man and two neighboring counties. There was no question of the guilt of the defendant and the jury returned a verdict of guilty, but was unable to decide whether the defendant
should be hanged or imprisoned for life. Under the statute, the trial judge fixed the death penalty.
On appeal the Supreme Court reversed the case.

Haymes said that the county
would be forced to retry the case at great expense to the State, and that there was a chance of the disappearance of witnesses and of the escape of the defendant from punishment.

Senator Cave, who several days ago supported Senator Burford in his arbitrary action in holding in the Criminal Jurisprudence Committee the 42 per cent loan bill and argued against any interference by the Senate with a committee chairman, denounced Haymes
for attempting to go over the head of the Judiciary Committee by seeking to accomplish by amendment to another bill which the Judiciary Committee had refused to report.

Many Anti-Reform Men Absent.
There were only 18 Senators present when the amendment came to a vote, a bar quorum. Many of the attorneys who accomplished
the defeat of the code revision bills were absent.

Amplified Barred in 1922.
Judge Burrows said he had
only found out the day before that
Mrs. Dennett had been told by the Postoffice Department in 1922
not to mail her pamphlet.

"That whole story is known,"
said Ernst. "It concerns the fight between Mrs. Dennett and H. J.
Dennett, now solicitor of the department. If Your Honor will investigate the documents he will find the whole thing was dictated

York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 30.—Devon and Carlton Dennett stood in the Federal Court at Brooklyn yesterday and heard their mother, Mrs.
Mary Ware Dennett, fined $300 by Judge Warren B. Burrows for sending through the mail the sex
primer she had composed for them
long ago.

"I will not pay a fine," declared
Mrs. Dennett; her only alternative if her appeal is lost will be to serve 300 days in jail.

"In refusing to pay a fine, she said afterward, 'I am making the only practicable protest against the verdict. If I could effectively refuse to go to jail I most certainly would do so.' But the Government is physically stronger than I am. It can force me into prison
if it chooses to use its might, but it cannot force me to pay a fine."

Mrs. Dennett was paroled in custody of her attorney, Morris L.
Ernst, pending the filing of an appeal Thursday at 2 p. m. Then Mrs. Dennett went to the Civic Club and sat with Ernst in an executive meeting of the American Civil Liberties Union, presided over by Roger Baldwin, director.

An hour later Baldwin came out and announced that a special committee had been appointed to organize the Mary Ware Dennett Defense Committee on national lines,
and that tomorrow would be given out the names of more than 100
educators, clergymen, physicians and other public figures from all parts of the United States, who will take up the question of testing the Brooklyn verdict by transmitting a signed copy of the contraband pamphlet to President Hoover.

Ernst will be up to the President to "send out United States Marshals and arrest all the senders of the primer through the mails," as one of the committee
explained the matter.

Mrs. Dennett, dressed in black and looking young in spite of her gray hair, her 33 years and her right to the title of grandmother,
said she was sorry the institution and conduct of her Brooklyn trial had been in this case more than administration of American law.

Concerned for the Young.
"I am deeply concerned for the young folks of the United States,"
she said. "Our public school system and our officials insist upon pledges of respect and loyalty toward Government. I wish the instance were as keen for making and executing laws which the young folks could thoroughly respect. I wish that the terms 'honorable court' and 'your honor'
might have been in this case more than empty conventions."

The sentencing had been a business of dreary waiting. The courtroom was filled with people interested in the case but Judge Burrows first disposed of a long calendar of liquor cases. Near noon
a bailiff stepped forward and warned the room that no demonstration would be tolerated by the court. There must be silence.

The prime solicitor before the bench beside United States Assistant District Attorney James E. Wilkinson, Ernst asked Judge Burrows first to make an inquiry into the jury room proceedings, mentioning a story in an evening newspaper quoting one of the jurors as saying, "The Judge left us nothing to do but convict." Wilkinson countered by saying the story "was made out of whole cloth," and had never been printed in late editions of the paper.

Pamphlet Barred in 1922.
Judge Burrows said he had
only found out the day before that
Mrs. Dennett had been told by
the Postoffice Department in 1922
not to mail her pamphlet.

PARIS, April 30.—Chances of a final reparations settlement have greatly increased. A compromise on the annuities Germany is to pay
may come even before Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, head of the German delegation, returns on Thursday from Berlin where he attended a meeting of the directors of the Reichsbank, of which he is president.

The final outcome of the 11
weeks of deliberations is now up to Dr. Schacht, who, the correspondent has learned, has with him a set of compromise annuities worked out by Owen D.
Young, chairman of the committee of experts, and by other American delegates. It is supposed this schedule of payments could be accepted by Dr. Schacht because they are considerably lower than the figures contained in the bill presented by the allied nations. These annuities are said to average less than $476,000,000 each.

Reports sent here from Berlin
said members of the German Cabinet with whom Dr. Schacht conferred share his opinion that Young is the only individual in a position to prevent a final breakdown of negotiations. It was said that any compromise suggested by him, if acceptable to Germany's creditors, would probably not be rejected by Germany.

Young Worked Out Figures.
It is no longer a secret among the conference that Young has put in the last 10 days in constant contact with Dr. Schacht and with the allied experts figuring out the basis for a possible compromise. His said to have arrived at a compromise which practically accepts Dr.
Schacht's offer of $253,000,000 for the first 10 or 15 years and keeps the remaining annuities at an average of $476,000,000 each.

To profit by this settlement,
however, Schacht must agree to an increasing ratio of unconditional payments, making possible the commercialization of about $2-25,000,000 or $2,250,000,000 of Germany's indebtedness for actual reparations and thus make the compromise acceptable to Germany's principal creditors.

Whether the annuities would be for 25, 27 or 28 years would be a matter of choice by Germany; but the experts, notably the American,
agree that the payments after 20
years or so are of comparatively little importance, especially as acceptance of the plan depends upon creation of an international bank,
the anticipated profits from which would make the terminal annuities
of academic interest, once the commercialization project is in operation.

The expected settlement is Young's work and there is no question that full credit for it will go to him if it is accomplished.

Accepted by German.
Hope for a settlement is so strong that the drafting committee
—most of the work of which is being done by its chairman, Sir Joseph Stamp of the British delegation—yesterday presented 66 pages
of its report which was accepted in principle, Kautz accepting it in the absence of Schacht.

The report is drawn in such a way that insertion of the final annuities would complete it, but if it proves impossible to get these,
the document can be concluded without them.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack, strong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

Rio and Our River Front.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
SOME 25 years ago when Rio de Janeiro undertook to reconstruct its rather ugly waterfront of four or five miles it attracted world-wide attention because of two things: The first, that the proposed work was on so large a scale; and, second, that so revolutionary a scheme to convert ugliness into beauty was born in a South American city. It was thought impractical, that the cost would be out of all proportion to the benefits to be derived. But the South Americans were not only dreamers, but very practical in the measures they applied to turning their dreams into reality. For, instead of piling up a big debt to be paid by taxation, they converted their waterfront into one of the most beautiful avenues in the world and left the city a large profit over its cost.

When I think of the river I am substantially correct in saying Rio condemned and bought up all the property facing the water front and, after completion of the boulevard, resold it for more than enough profit to pay for the improvement.

Every St. Louisian with public spirit wants to see the river front improved, but the prospective cost in taxation presents a vision that does not add to his enthusiasm.

I wonder if we could not benefit by the experience of Rio and have our river front improved without cost to the taxpayers.

The City of St. Louis, a public corporation, is limited by its charter, and could not, without change, go into the real estate business, even for this definite public benefit. But remedial legislation might empower it to act, either directly or through a subsidiary corporation, if powerful selfish interests did not arise to prevent it.

Di Subjects for Siberia.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I NOTICE, according to the latest newspaper reports that the man who assassinated Mrs. Lillian de King has been exonerated by the Kane County grand jury.

This was incidental to the enforcement of prohibition laws. Mrs. de King was assassinated while sitting on a chair using the telephone and her husband was beaten into insensibility with a chair. All because a prohibition snapper had sworn falsely that Mrs. de King had sold him liquor. The most atrocious murder in the annals of history.

This certainly speaks well for the cause of prohibition. When a man's home, his castle, can be invaded by a bunch of hoodlums. Murder his wife without the slightest provocation and beat him into insensibility. This is the supreme limit. When Americans stand for that sort of thing they cease to be Americans and ought to be deported to Siberia.

Mr. Hackmann's Appointment.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I BELIEVE a certain representative from Kirkwood had the wrong idea when he resented the appointment by Gov. Caulfield of two new election commissioners for St. Louis County, and thinking erroneously that the appointment of Mr. Hackmann would not be favorable to the majority. Let me state that from the standpoint of good citizenship, moral excellence, honesty and ability, the Governor could not have made a better appointment. And furthermore any proposals or suggestions by Fred Esen in regard to such appointments could not be objected to by any good Republican.

Catholic Women and Jury Service.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
RECENTLY I went to Jefferson City with a delegation of women to urge that the Senate Judiciary Committee report the bill giving women the right to serve on juries out of committee.

Before the hearing Senator Michael Kinney told me that he had a letter from an organization of Catholic women, which he said represented 9000 women, asking him to vote against the bill.

I am a member of several large organizations of Catholic women and have a wide acquaintance among women who are leaders in these groups. I have talked with large numbers of them and have not found any more serious opposition against women serving on juries than among non-Catholic women. It is my sincere conviction that Catholic women are as ready and willing to assume the full responsibilities of citizenship as other groups of women. Jury service is as much a duty as voting, and I believe that the extension to women of the right to serve on juries will open up a great cause of intelligent, qualified jurors who are not now available.

MARGARET MATTINGLY MOWREY.

THE REPARATIONS CRISIS.

The return of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht to Paris after conferring with the heads of the German Government at Berlin creates an expectation that the reparations crisis will pass within a very few days. Germany has said what she thinks about the Versailles treaty, but she will hardly fail to avail herself of the great opportunity offered by the conference of experts. After all, it is easier for her to get justice from American financiers who represent a great credit in Germany than it would be to get justice from her recent enemies in Europe.

Berlin looks to Mr. Owen D. Young for a solution, and it may be said that the whole world looks to him. His relation to the reparations problem is particularly advantageous for occupying a coin entirely neutral to the interests of all the participants. It possesses an advantage, for instance, over the relation of Mr. J. P. Morgan to the conference of experts. The American loans in Germany are immense, and Mr. Morgan is, of course, necessarily mindful of that great investment. Germany is not alone in being disposed to take the advice of Mr. Young. All the creditors of Germany are disposed to accept it. It is therefore likely that the conference will not fail. The German passions of a week ago, which the world can well understand, have passed. The problem of Germany is a very great one. She cannot abandon herself to resentment of the injustices at Versailles, however grievous those injustices were.

A compromise at the conference is of the greatest possible interest to international economy. Dr. Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, recently said that a settlement of the reparations problem will "penetrate to every farmer and factory worker in the United States." The United States is Germany's largest creditor, and it would seriously impair our market for money to have German credit disturbed. Mr. Coolidge said in his Armistice Day speech last autumn that Germany had paid $1,300,000,000 in reparations while American citizens had advanced $1,100,000,000 to her, or almost everything she had paid. Germany is also one of the world's greatest markets for raw materials. If her commerce and industry are not robust the Latin Americans, among others, are deprived of an income essential to our Latin American exports. So that in the international economy such a serious dislocation as was threatened by a virtual collapse of the reparations conference at Paris last week is infinitely more alarming than most of us realize. None of us is a mere onlooker.

Dr. Schacht will have to get the best terms he can. That is no doubt the instruction with which he is returning to Paris. It is quite true, as he says, that the claims against Germany are unjust and cruel. Nevertheless, the time has not come when they can be detached from the hurts of the war. They will in time become political and therefore less venal than they are today. Until that time comes Germany will have to pay as best she can, without too great injury either to herself or the rest of the world. She is very fortunate to have the advice and counsel of the unofficial American experts.

WHY STAMPS DON'T STICK.

No problem may be considered of real importance until a conference has been called to settle it. By that standard, the non-adherence of postage stamps to letters has become a major issue, for Postmaster General Brown has summoned his subordinates of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to discuss the matter.

So eminent a scientist as Edwin E. Slosson has taken hold of the question. Vox-popping to the New York Times, he gives his diagnosis: There are two kinds of stamps, pale pink ones and rosy red ones. The rosy red stamps are lacking in mudlage, he asserts, so one should buy stamps as one buys strawberries, choosing the ripe, deep-colored ones. Another authority divides stamps into two other varieties: Summer and winter. The summer product has less glue, to prevent the total loss of those kept in the vest pocket in hot weather, while the winter vintage is better gummed. So, reasons this scientist, the complaints are caused by postmasters failing to consult the thermometer and selling summer stamps during a cold snap. Still another savant sees the automatic stamp moistener as the villain of the piece, and exhibits whole squadrons of office boys who fail to keep such devices properly watered.

Whatever the answer may be, we have a solution to offer, too: Give a paper of pins with every sheet of stamps.

IN DEFENSE OF ARTHUR HYDE.

Senator Joe Robinson has made an aspersions upon the Secretary of Agriculture, our own Arthur Hyde. He wants the Senate committee on agriculture to publish the testimony of two Agricultural Department employees on the debenture plan, believing their opinions "would probably have more weight than that of Secretary Hyde, who has had very little experience in agriculture, but who has been an automobile dealer." It is pretty cruel of the Senator to intimate that Mr. Hyde's subordinates know more about agriculture than he does.

Very versatile man. It is true he has been an automobile dealer, and we have never heard a whisper that he is not an expert on autos. He has also been in the insurance business, and who can say that he has not mastered it? But those two activities do not exhaust Mr. Hyde's repertoire. As an honorary member of the W. C. T. U., we may be sure he knows the white-ribbon creed backwards and forwards. As a politician, his record speaks for itself. He even excels as a notary public.

How dare Joe Robinson suggest that the Secretary of Agriculture is not an expert on agriculture?

POLITICS AND TEA.

Removal of the duty on tea, by the Baldwin government, is an obvious attempt to obtain votes in the elections to be held on May 30. The Government has taken a leaf from the book of Mr. Coolidge, and another from the book of Marcus A. Hanna. It has done away with a tax which the English people found exceedingly disagreeable, thereby reducing its annual revenue by $30,000,000 in American money, and it has caused the Conservative press to herald its action as meaning the advent of a "Free Breakfast Table," even as the press of this country told the people in 1896 that the election of William McKinley and a Republican Congress would mean a "Full Dinner Pail" for the American workingman.

The Government's action will reduce the price of tea eight cents per pound. It may have a profound effect on the immediate temper of the English people, and insure the Conservative Party of enough seats in Commons to make certain its return to power. The English are not the most ungrateful of people. And, as H. G. Wells has said of electorates everywhere, they are often greatly influenced by superficialities and non-essentials.

NO DAYLIGHT SAVING.

There is good reason to believe that the Chamber of Commerce poll on daylight saving, which was suggested by a Post-Dispatch editorial, is an accurate barometer of St. Louis sentiment. In mailing a postcard to every tenth name on the registration books, the Chamber of Commerce followed the plan used successfully by the Literary Digest in forecasting the presidential race and by the Post-Dispatch in the recent mayoralty primary. In both instances, the results of the elections tallied very closely with the straw vote. In the daylight saving poll, 5062 persons, or 57 per cent, voted against it, while it was favored by 6206, or 42 per cent.

Daylight saving has been employed with great satisfaction in Chicago, New York and other northern cities, where the temperature cools off markedly as soon as the sun goes down. This is not true in St. Louis, and the main opposition to daylight saving seems to be based upon this climatic condition. It is complained by those whose occupations entail early rising that if daylight saving were adopted it would be necessary to go to bed while the heat of the day still lingers and to get up in the cool hours of the morning when sleep is most refreshing.

It seems to us this is a valid argument, especially since it is urged on behalf of those who perform manual labor. When it is supported by the majority vote in a fair poll, there seems to be nothing more to say. We are sure those who favored the measure will accept defeat in a sportsmanlike way, and that the Board of Aldermen will be guided by the result of the poll.

MR. MELLON AND THE TREASURY.

The question of Andrew W. Mellon's right to serve as Secretary of the Treasury is based on an old statute forbidding the head of the Treasury Department to be interested in trade or commerce.

It is a good law. Mr. Mellon complied with it, when he accepted the appointment, by resigning all executive offices in the business world and selling all his stock in national banks.

Did he fully comply with the law? Certain Senators—among them men whose legal opinion is entitled to respect—are doubtful about it. We are inclined to believe that public opinion holds that Mr. Mellon did all that could reasonably be asked of an appointee to that office to make himself eligible under the law.

Would it be fair or sensible to require Mr. Mellon to sell every share of stock he owned in every corporation?

Were his predecessors required thus to divest themselves of every active dollar they possessed and retire, so to speak, to the sanctuary of a commercial monastery?

The Senators might inquire of one of their own fellow-Senators as to that—Mr. Carter Glass of Virginia who for a time served as Secretary of the Treasury under Mr. Wilson. Mr. Glass, as a newspaper editor and publisher, was engaged in trade and commerce, assuming that "trade and commerce" means gainful occupation. Did he sell his two Lynchburg papers when he succeeded Mr. McAdoo as Secretary of the Treasury?

Did Franklin MacVeagh have to take the business veil when Mr. Taft made him Secretary of the Treasury?

Mr. Roosevelt had three Secretaries of the Treasury—Lyman Gage, Leslie M. Shaw, George B. Cortelyou. Were they compelled to go into an industrial no man's land in order to administer the country's finances?

Those questions are pertinent, we think, inasmuch as a point has been made of President Grant's action in withdrawing the name of a nominee for the office whose business interests conflicted with this statute. The citation may be relevant but practice and custom are all on the side of a common-sense interpretation of this law.

We submit that the Senators who are questioning Mr. Mellon's eligibility on legal grounds are departing from historical precedent and common sense.

But suppose they are legally right, and suppose they oust Mr. Mellon on the contention that he has not complied with the legal requirements for holding this office. Where, then, will a President find a Secretary of the Treasury? What man competent to fill the job will make the sacrifice which, according to the Senate, the law demands?

"AWFUL IDIOTS."

Mr. Archibald R. Graustein, president of the International Paper and Power Co., which has acquired 50 per cent of the stock of the Boston Herald and Traveler, denies that the corporation wants to control the policies of those newspapers.

"We would be awful idiots if we tried to," says Mr. Graustein. So they would. The power people were awful idiots to do any of the things they have done to control public opinion in the United States. They were awful idiots to put textbooks in the schools, to buy college professors, and to gag with advertising as they have done in many of the states, the country press. They were awful idiots to feed their miserable money and their wretched pabulum to those who were so aptly described by J. B. Sheridan in Missouri as "God's fools." They were awful idiots, too, when they put their great lobby in Washington to defeat an inquiry into their practices. They have had an unparalleled opportunity to do honestly an immensely profitable business all over the United States. They raised the bugaboo of public ownership themselves by resorting to practices which are by this time known and despised by the whole country. Only awful idiots, to use Mr. Graustein's characterization, would give a great industry such a bad name as the power industry has so richly deserved.

Mr. Graustein says the International has invested in these Boston newspapers to increase the market for newspaper. He probably tells us this because the Marines are for the moment in Nicaragua. What would become of the press if the paper companies and their like bought it up as a market for raw materials? We would be worse idiots to permit it than the power people possibly could be to do it.

The Hon. Nathan Frank of St. Louis is proposed for the national crime probe. Since he says they stole the Republican nomination for United States Senator from him last summer around the Kansas City polls, he ought to know something about the subject.

Elizabethton, Tennessee

THE WINNER OF THE DAYLIGHT SAVING RACE.

Elizabethton, Tennessee

An impression of a Southern mill town, whose mushroom growth is attested by the fact that the buildings already have a half-decayed, worn-out look; the young girl workers, the beautiful machines, the sledge-hammer type of labor organizer; suggestion for an Elizabethton monument.

Sherwood Anderson in The Nation.

TO Elizabethton, Tennessee, where there has been a recent flareup of labor trouble among the employees of the huge rayon plants there. This is the town, so often written up as "the wonder city," "Elizabethton the beautiful," etc. To me it seemed neither very beautiful nor very ugly.

Well, surely the town is in a lovely place. I had taken with me a woman who had once been engaged with an organization that works for the betterment of the working classes—especially working women. As we drove down through the beautiful valley toward the town she told me many interesting and sometimes terrible things about the condition of working girls in Southern mill towns.

To me the town, when we got into it, seemed not unlike hundreds of Iowa, Illinois, and Ohio county-seat towns. Earlier there was a period of better building in America. New England felt its influence as did parts of Pennsylvania and all of the South. For some reason these earlier buildings, of stone, brick, and heavy timbers, had more beautiful outlines than the buildings of a later period.

Here is a town not more than 5 years old. Already the buildings have that half-decayed worn-out look that makes so many of us feel that the town is old. There is a sense of cheapness, hurry, no care for the buildings in which men and women are to live and work. "The premature aging of buildings in America," said my friend Van Wyck Brooks, "is the saddest thing in America."

We went to the hotel to dine and I went into the wash-room. Such places—intimate, personal places—mark a town. The hotel, but a few years old, already had that shoddy, weary air characteristic of cheap carelessness construction.

There were a few tiny fragments of cheap soap. The wash-bowls were dirty. Such things are important. They tell a story.

We drove out to the two great rayon plants in the evening. Just as the employees were leaving. This is mountain white labor. About three-fourths of all the labor employed is girls.

They are shockingly young. I saw many girls that could not have been beyond 12 or 13. In these towns, I am told, children have two ages, the real age and the "mill age." It is easy to escape responsibility. "If she lies about her age," etc.

Of course she lies. These are the poorest of poor people, from the hills, the mountain gulches. They went with weary steps along the road. Many of the young girls were already developing gutters, that sure sign of overwork, nervous debility. They had thin legs, stooped shoulders.

The mills themselves had that combination of the terrible with the magnificent that is so disconcerting. Anyone working in these places must feel their power. Oh, the beauty and wonder of the modern intricate machines! It is said that many of the girls and women in these places are half in love with the machines at which they work. We have one of the modern wonder machines here in our own little country-town printshop, a modern linotype. Je who runs it has pride in it. It is superb. In its accuracy, in its tirelessness.

There is always the old question—to make men rise in nobility to the nobility of the machines.

It is obvious there has not been much nobility in Elizabethton. The girls there were underpaid, they were not organized, they had no power.

A strike flared up, starting I am told, as a kind of spontaneous movement among the girls. It might have been met easily at first. The employers were brutally casual about it.

The girls began to organize and the American Federation of Labor sent an organizer there. His name is Hoffman, a fat man, of the characteristic sledge-hammer, labor-organizer type. A group of men of the town—they have not all been identified yet—went to his hotel at night and escorted him out of town at the point of a gun.

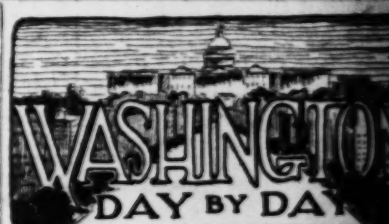

Another bit of characteristic stupidity. He came right back, of course. Such a man would know well the publicity value of such a crude performance on the part of the local business men. It was all nuts for him. Obviously it is true that labor as well as industry and capital has the right to organize. If you own a factory you do not have to employ organized labor if you can get out of doing so. But you cannot stop labor organizing. You cannot throw a man out of town because he comes there to help labor organize. Modern, more intelligent and shrewd industrialists have learned there is a better way to handle such matters.

They give labor what it wants. Tack the price on for the buyer at the other end. They throw the burden on over to the consuming public. The middle-class do not know how to organize and apparently the farmers will not organize. And the industrialists are slowly finding out that cheap, under-paid labor is in the end no good.

So here were these girls organizing and the movement grew like wild-fire. The men came in. All Elizabethton is apparently being organized.

Some of them came from Elizabethton puzzled. How will it all come out? "At least," I thought, "these working men and women have got out of this business of organizing, of standing thus even for the moment, shoulder to shoulder, a new dignity. They have got a realization of each other. They have got for the moment a kind of religion of brotherhood and that is something."

It is a great deal more than any wage increase they may win from their struggle. They have built a monument to Elizabethton. It is at the head of the main street. I fancy they felt that the town should have a monument. Almost all towns have. Perhaps also there was nothing in particular to build a monument about. Apparently they just built one anyway. I walked around it several times but could find no inscription on it. It was built of brick with a thin coating of cement. Already it is falling to pieces. How I would have liked to see one of those delicately featured, hard bodied, little mountain girls, done in stone by some real artist, standing up there.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

WASHINGTON, April 28

THE Congressional Record—the grand diary of the elected representatives of the American people—has a fighting chance of getting a boost in circulation of some 25,000 copies.

A bill was introduced in the lower house of Congress the other day authorizing the public printer to send each public and parochial high school in the United States one copy of each daily issue. The bill originated with Representative Edgar Howard of Nebraska.

The author of the bill believes a study of the Record will carry to students new knowledge of the practical workings of our forms of government than any training now in such schools.

THERE is probably no other printed document which has as much fun piled at it as the Congressional Record. To many it is synonymous with dullness and digression—the reading of which causes one to grow exceedingly tired.

For more than 66 years it has been printed in the same way and in the same type. Only once has it yielded to modernism. About eight years ago Congress permitted the printing of a picture of a cartoon and it is said this particular Record has been requested thousands of times since its printing.

There is at least one member of Congress who has interested himself in the question of making the Record more attractive, and is out in the open to put it into it and increase its circulation. He is Representative John J. Boylan of New York.

Speeches alone do not count for much, says Boylan, yet that is all the Record now contains. He would make of it a great national journal, printing anything that helps to give a picture of American life today.

This, conceivably, may mean cartoons, pictures, photographs, comic strips, headlines, editorials, and even a sporting page—in fact, all the adornments of the modern, entertaining, and historical newspaper. As a matter of fact, only a few weeks ago Boylan was prevented by Majority Leader Clegg from inserting a cartoon in the Record.

There should be room in the Record, he says, for a Babe Ruth as well as a Bryan Longworth, for Lindbergh as well as President Hoover. He thinks introducing such items would incite a greater desire upon the part of the American people to read and keep in touch with what Congress is doing.

ON the floor of the House one day Boylan told his colleagues that they should publish the Record as a live, up-to-date, alert paper or suspend entirely publication of this "obsolete sheet that is so antiquated and prehistoric in its makeup as to make a printer's devil laugh."

Hindu Fables for Little Children

By Dhan Gopal Mukerji. (Dutton.)

THOSE who have kept in touch with the writings of Dhan Gopal Mukerji during the past six or seven years must have felt a steadily increasing respect for the man and his gift. Though he seems incapable of writing anything that is not entertaining, he has never truckled to the going crowd whim. He has written out of his own rich consciousness in his own winning manner, and though there is a deep seriousness in all that he writes, his warm, humaneness and active sense of humor keep his touch agreeably light.

The fact is, that Mukerji's is a richer and wiser personality than all but a very few now identified with American literature. One of the principal reasons for this is to be found in the very unusual life-experience and training he has had. As his following doubtless knows, he was born in India, a member of the Brahmin, or priestly class. In his boyhood and youth he was influenced by the wise men into whose circle he was born; and anyone who has ever been in intimate contact with him must have felt very strongly the effect of such influence. In his young manhood he came to the United States alone and made his way under great difficulties through Leland Stanford University. For some years thereafter he lectured throughout the country. He is quite as familiar with the great literature of the Western World as with that of the Orient—a fact which makes him rather an astonishing man to some such public and scholarly high school in the United States. This writer once had the privilege of spending a day and nearly the whole night in eager discussion with him, and he could take almost any intellectual grade on high, and yet when the two very little children of the house came into the room, he was a child with them. He was actually so, and without effort. There was no condescension, no make-believe. And what gorgeous child stories he shared with them!

The man's books are good because he himself is so much bigger than his books, whereas most authors are really less than their writings make them appear.

In "Hindu Fables for Little Children" he never for a moment gives the impression of "talking down" to the youngsters. If one asked him about this, he would certainly insist that the child mind is not inferior to the adult mind—only different; and he would mean it. Here are stories of tigers, elephants, rabbits, pigeons, monkeys, alligators, cows and other extreme-ly interesting persons. Mukerji would insist upon the word "persons" in this connection and he is quite sincere in doing so. To him they are so; and surely anyone who has enjoyed intimate friendship with any animal will know his view is right.

Aside from their entertaining quality, these truly naive animal tales carry a depth of meaning that is the more effective for being unobtrusive.

Last year the American Association for Adult Education and the American Library Association appointed a committee of librarians and educational experts to make a study of the reading habits of Americans. During the past quarter of a century 800 separate studies of reading interests and habits have been reported, and these studies have been summarized by the committee and presented in a volume just published by Macmillan—"The Reading Interests and Habits of Adults," by William S. Gray dean of the College of Education at the University of Chicago, and Ruth Monroe, formerly Assistant Librarian of the Cleveland Public Library. Among the interesting facts set forth in the work are the following:

Millions of American adults can not read. Ninety-five per cent of the literate read newspapers. Seventy-five per cent read magazines, and only 50 per cent read books. The number of books published in 1927 was much smaller than in either 1912 or 1915. Massachusetts has 27 times as many books in its libraries in proportion to its population as Arkansas, and it reads 27 times as many books. Movies do not affect interest in reading. More than half the books drawn out of libraries are fiction. Interest in the radio is in inverse proportion to the amount of education and book reading.

Lindbergh from Paris in 1927.

Dr. Thomas S. Duncan, professor of Greek and Latin at Washington University, will give an illustrated lecture on "Coins and the Humanities" in the auditorium of the Jefferson Memorial, at 8:15 p. m. Friday. The lecture will be under the auspices of the St. Louis Society of the Archaeological Institute of America and will deal with the relationship between the studies of numismatics and mythology, history, religion and art.

Will Circle Over Grave at Funeral of Father Henry Hussmann Tomorrow.

When the Rev. Henry Hussmann, the "flying pastor," is buried in Calvary cemetery tomorrow morning, following services at the church, fellow aviators from Lambert-St. Louis Field will fly over the grave as a last tribute.

Father Hussmann, who was 62 years old, was a pupil of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and made his first flight in 1927. He died Saturday, March 23, at his home, 1015 St. Louis street. He was a member of the St. Louis Society of the Flying Pastors, and was a member of the St. Louis Society of the Flying Pastors, and was a member of the St. Louis Society of the Flying Pastors.

brought to heights of efficiency during the stressful wartime years called for new economic adjustments. Fortunately men of vision were not lacking. Secretary of Commerce Hoover was one of the first spokesmen of the new viewpoint. This was, briefly, a program for eliminating waste in industry, standardization of output, increased use of machinery in reducing production costs, higher wages for the labor involved, yet lower prices to the actual consumer.

On such revolutionary suggestions the present era of prosperity was begun and developed. Old theories of wages founded on the subsistence level were declared obsolete and abandoned. The new policy was to consider wages not alone in relation to living costs but as increased purchasing power. "Labor would consume more if it could produce more and receive higher compensation." Thus far the application of such a radical industrial policy has proven all that was claimed for it.

The book shows not alone how and why these changes have been inaugurated, but treats too of the constructive remedies proposed for the special problems which the new order has developed: lack of coordination of production and consumption, the unemployment menace, equitable co-operation of labor and capital.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, April 30.

THOUGHTS while strolling: The avenue bristling with flags. Goody, maybe there'll be a parade and a band. Those modernistic dress forms with heads like snails. I hope the owner of the wad of gum in my instep acquires a mild dose of itch. Theodore Dreiser, a Terre Haute, Ind., boy, who made good in the city.

Lee Shubert alone in a big car. He's a gum looking fellow. A white Russian wolfhound asleep on the steps of a church. Pale youths with fawn ties who gallop along hatless as though going somewhere. Instead of just showing off. The somber dignity of a Japanese store. Joseph Mulvaney, the dramatic scribbler.

There's an flea-bath tub book-racks. More entire glass building fronts. What's become of feather boas? Brass sign: "Futuristic Science." A plump dowager without a yapping Pekie. Tony Sarg, Aging clubmen with white vest edging. The sun sinks in blood-red splendor.

The eerie evening hunk of geese in the Central Park lake. A white wing lights a cigarette with a patent lighter. The guilty feeling when a cop walks suddenly toward you. And the effort to appear not to care. Maids trying to look pale and interesting. And only succeed in looking pale.

Why feel foolish when a group sniggers as you pass by? They may be laughing at something else. Unless you wear white spots. The golden cock on the Hecksher building. Receives more publicity than Peggy Joyce's latest diamond. Dusk siffs gray shadows.

Karl Kitchen leaving his bachelor chambers. Those vigorous fellows who seem to spring up the steps of the Athletic Club. Making the ordinary mortal feel as though he had the rickets or something. Wonder if I'm spry enough to cross Columbus Circle.

TWO George Rabbits in real life have arisen to confound Sinclair

Lewis because of his fictional Bab-bitt. One of the successful author's greatest problems is to avoid real life names among his imaginary characters. It has resulted in many lawsuits. In The Sherrods, George Barr McCutcheon gave the name Jud Sherrod to his principal character and the name of Justice to his wife. In a small town in the West there lived a Jud Sherrod and his wife Justice, of whose existence the author was totally ignorant. He decided to avoid such a situation and ingeniously coined the name Elias Drogom. Two Elias Drogoms protested. Another novelist hit upon the plan of spelling his wife's last name backward for the first name of a villain and spelling his own first name backward for the last name. There were four in the world with that odd name.

FRANK O'MALLEY relays from Switzerland the observation of an American who has been sojourning at a Vevey hotel frequented by the superior type of Englishman. Said he: "The height of affectation is an Englishman trying to be civil."

AND it was Willis Collier, I believe, who discovered why the Englishman does not care for the American cocktail. The olive in the bottom of the glass reminds him of his adenoids.

RIGHT here, however, is a good spot to uncork a cheer for the English. They have given even the pachyderma pundits of the New York drama something to think about with their magnificent theatricalism. They have proved conclusively theater goes thick for themselves and that it is not necessary to lower the curtain at the end of every act on a climax.

Very few playwrights have achieved that subtlety requiring blue prints. But they seem to think they have.

A MAGAZINE this autumn is to pay a new writer $2 a word for his short story. I'm thinking

PINK roses decorated the spacious home of former Judge and Mrs. Henry S. Priest, 4320 Westminister place, for the marriage at noon today of Judge Priest's granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth Grayson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Grayson Jr., 4557 McPherson avenue, to Dr. Paul J. Zentay. The ceremony, to which only members of the families were invited, took place in the second floor library before a fireplace banked with roses and greenery. The Rev. Dr. John W. MacIvor, of the Second Presbyterian Church officiated.

The bride was attended by her younger sister, Miss Frances Priest Grayson, and Miss Mary Scudder Bond. Miss Grayson was gowned in beige georgette combined with beige lace, and a hairbrat hat and accessories of light brown shades completed the costume. Miss Bond wore flowered chiffon, with a black hairbrat hat and black slippers. They were green orchids and lilies of the valley, arranged in shoulder corsages.

Mrs. Zentay wore an afternoon gown of soft almond green crepe, fashioned in the low waisted bodice effect, with long close fitting sleeves. The trimming was confined to a design of fine tucks about the lower bodice, and from this fell a finely pleated skirt. A smart bow of the crepe was attached to the gown at one side. The bride wore a beige hairbrat hat trimmed with soft gray material suggestive of angora tips which encircled the crown and was finished with a bow at one side. She carried gardenias and lilies of the valley. Dr. Arthur W. Proetz was Dr. Zentay's best man and only attendant.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for a number of additional guests in the lower floor rooms, adorned with baskets of pink roses. The reception table in the dining room had for its centerpiece a mass of white roses and lilies of the valley surrounded by smaller vases and lighted by white tapers in silver holders.

Dr. and Mrs. Zentay will depart today by motor for Asheville, N. C., on their wedding trip. They will make their home at 4927 Laclede avenue.

The bride is a graduate of Mary Institute and the Finch School in New York. She made her debut in St. Louis several seasons ago and is now engaged in Junior League work.

Dr. Zentay is a native of Budapest, Hungary, where he was educated. He came to St. Louis three years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson B. Gatch, 5086 Westminister place, will have as their guest for a week or ten days Mrs. Gatch's sister, Mrs. Clifford Hemphill of New York, who will arrive in St. Louis Friday.

A number of parties are being arranged for the visitor, including a tea Monday at which Mrs. Gatch will be hostess, at her home, and a small dinner dance to be given Tuesday night, May 7, by Mr. and Mrs. Felix J. Gunter at their home, 37 Portland place. Saturday night Mrs. Hemphill has planned a dinner for Mrs. Gatch at the Coronado Hotel, and on Thursday of next week Mrs. Walker Hill will have Mrs. Gatch and Mrs. Hemphill as luncheon guests at the St. Louis Country Club.

At the dinner dance Mr. and Mrs. Gunter will have about 20 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunter and their four sons, will spend the summer at Harbor Point, Mich., where they will be guests at the clubhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunter will go to Louisville for the annual running of the Kentucky Derby May 18 as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eden Norris in their private car.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Koenig, 3536 Koenigsknecht street, will sail May 4

Mr. and Mrs. Yantis will depart in July for Watch Hill, E. I., to be guests at the Ocean House for the remainder of the summer.

Another family of St. Louisans to spend the summer at Watch Hill will be Mr. and Mrs. John F. Betts, 5150 Westminister place, and their children, who have leased a house there. They will depart June 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Betts' daughter, Miss Audrey Betts, who is a student in a school in Paris, will sail for home early in June.

At a tea given this afternoon by Mrs. Humbert Ghol, Miss Adele Siemens and Mrs. Urban Dames, at the home of Mrs. Dames, 6248 Pershing avenue, announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Siemens and Leo Pelligreen, Miss Siemens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Siemens, is a graduate of the Sacred Heart convent and the Loretto Academy. Mr. Pelligreen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Pelligreen.

NG RACE.

WASHINGTON, April 28.

THE Congressional Record—the great diary of the elected representatives of the American people—has a fighting chance of getting a boost in circulation of some 25,000 copies.

A bill was introduced in the lower house of Congress the other day authorizing the public printer to send each public and parochial high school in the United States one copy of each daily issue. The idea originated with Representative Edgar Howard of Nebraska.

The author of the bill believes a student of the Record will carry to students better knowledge of the practical workings of our forms of government than any textbook now in such schools.

THERE is probably no other printed document which has as much fun poked at it as the Congressional Record. To many it is synonymous with dullness and dinginess—the reading of which causes one to grow exceedingly tired.

For more than 56 years it has been printed in the same way and in the same type. Only once has it yielded to modernism. About eight years ago Congress permitted the printing of a picture of a cow, and it is said this particular Record has been requested thousands of times since its printing.

There is at least one member of Congress who has interested himself in the question of making the Record more attractive, and is out in the open to put pep into it and increase its circulation. He is Representative John J. Boylan of New York.

Speeches alone do not count for much, says Boylan, yet that is all the Record now contains. He would make of it a great national journal, printing anything that helps to give a picture of American life today.

This, conceivably, may mean cartoons, pictures, photographs, comic strips, headlines, editorials, and even a sporting page—in fact, all the adornments of the modern, entertaining, and historical newspaper. As a matter of fact, only a few weeks ago Boylan was prevented by Majority Leader Tamm from inserting a cartoon in the Record.

OFFER TO YIELD NOGALES, SONORA, MADE BY REBELS

Gen. Cochen, U. S. A., Attends Conference of Federals and Revolutionists on American Side of Border.

By the Associated Press.

NOGALES, Ariz., April 29.—An offer by the rebel leaders in Nogales, Sonora, to surrender the city to the Mexican Federals was presented at a conference held here today.

The conference was attended by Rafael Avila, Mexican Consul at Nogales, Ariz., representing the Mexican Government, and Col. Jesus Lora and Maj. Rosendo Franco, representing the rebels. Gen. Frank C. Cochen, U. S. A., also attended.

The rebel base of Nogales was the target of three Federal bombing planes this morning. Rebel sharpshooters and machine guns trained an anti-aircraft fire on the planes. Whether any damage was done by either side could not be ascertained.

Gen. Francisco Borquez, rebel commander at Nogales, crossed the international line at 11 o'clock this morning, seeking sanctuary in the United States.

The west coast rebel army under Gen. Fausto Topete, former Governor of Sonora, was demoralized yesterday by the surrender of Col. Miguel Guerrero and 500 soldiers to Federals at Ortiz, Sonora, and the flight of Topete and his staff and Capt. R. H. Polk, the American leader of the rebel air forces, to the United States.

The only rebel forces apparently still giving active resistance were those under General Marcelino Caraveo and Ramon Yucupicio, facing the Federal army of Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan advancing through Pulpito Pass from Chihuahua.

Gen. J. Gonzalo Escobar, commander in chief of the insurgents, was reported to have joined Caraveo, planning to conduct guerrilla warfare in the mountains of northeastern Sonora against the Federal Government.

None of the Mexican rebel leaders here, was in custody of American officials so far as known, and

DIVORCED HE SAYS FOR GETTING DRUNK ON WIFE'S HOME BREW

Patrick Murphy Relieved of Paying $20 for Son's Support by Edwardsville Court.

Mrs. Patrick Murphy of Granite City made home brew which caused her husband to become intoxicated, and then divorced him, on the ground of drunkenness. So Murphy testified in Circuit Court at Edwardsville yesterday in support of his application for modification of an order that he pay his wife $20 a month for the support of a minor son. He also testified that his son was working.

Mrs. Murphy admitted making the home brew, but said that her husband brought home "white mules" which caused him to become intoxicated. The Court decided Murphy need no longer pay the $20.

Burned to Death After Crash.

HOLDENVILLE, Ok., April 29.—One man was burned to death and four others were injured when a truckload of gasoline exploded after it had been struck yesterday by a Frisco train near Spaulding, Ok. Hoyle Boles of Konawa, driver of the truck, was burned beyond recognition. W. L. Miller of Sapulpa, engineer, and Jap Cousins, fireman; John Keener of Konawa, passenger on the truck, and a mail clerk, name Daniels, were burned seriously.

whether they would be arrested or interned was not disclosed. Topete and his brother went to a house where their wives have been living. They refused to see anyone except their closest friends.

There was an almost constant stream of Mexican families seeking shelter in the United States. "You can't fight guerrilla style with an airplane," said Capt. Polk, who asserted he was a full-fledged rebel General. "That is why I left Mexico. The rebels now owe me $2500 for my services and there is not a dime left in the rebel till in Nogales."

"I expect other rebel leaders to cross the line into the United States. The United States is my country and the Department of Justice has some charges against me but I will be free soon."

Polk added another reason why he did not want to be lined up in front of an adobe wall, he said. Report That Germans Are Aiding Rebels Called "Mad Idea."

BEELIN, April 29.—Reports from Ciudad Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico, that Mexican rebels had said they were receiving arms and munitions from Germany were characterized by Government officials today as "a mad idea." "The story is completely untrue," they said.

THREE PLANS OFFERED FOR USE OF SPRING AV.

Viaduct Across Mill Creek Valley and Narrower Sidewalks Among Proposals.

A public hearing on three proposals for improvement of Spring avenue as a traffic artery was set for May 21 by the Board of Public Service today, on recommendation of Director of Streets and Sewers Brooks.

It is the city's idea to develop Spring for traffic relief of Grand boulevard, since the project for cutting a new thoroughfare between those two streets has been abandoned.

The first proposal contemplates only the opening of Spring for two short blocks between Finney and Bell avenues and cutoffs at the intersections of Page boulevard, Cook avenue and Olive street.

The second and more ambitious scheme includes the foregoing one and widening of Spring from 69 to 80 feet, between Cass avenue and Meramec street; erection of a viaduct to carry Spring across the Mill Creek Valley railroad tracks, and opening of Spring across Tower Grove Park. This plan, Director Brooks pointed out, would make, with the addition of existing units at either end, a boulevard for a long way across the city, from Natural Bridge avenue to Itaska street.

A third plan is to reduce the width of the sidewalks on either side of Spring avenue, where it now exists between Cass and Meramec, from 15-foot width to seven and one-half feet. This would provide a 45-foot roadway, instead of 50 feet, and give room for three lanes of traffic even with a row of parked cars on each side.

Costs of the various plans have not been estimated. They are put forth now to start public discussion as to the most desirable and feasible plan.

TWO months ago Reo announced new Speed Wagons for 1½ to 3 ton hauling, powered by the Reo Gold Crown Engine, a development of 15 years' leadership in high speed, low upkeep, long lived transportation.

Due to revolutionary improvements offered, success was immediate, widespread and enormous. Sales probably without precedent in the truck industry. These new Speed Wagons have marked a new era in heavy duty hauling such as industry has never known before. An era of pleasure car performance, flexibility and economy in 1½ to 3 ton haulage. They meet the new Time Element which has entered the field of heavy and semi-heavy transportation.

Because they handle and perform in today's traffic like the newest pleasure car models, these Speed Wagons are setting new records in daily mileage output. Reducing time schedules, increasing number of calls, widening delivery radius. But Reo engineers have achieved more than new power and performance in the Reo Gold Crown Engine. They have designed and built into it an utterly new conception of long, trouble-free life. They have largely eliminated vibration and friction, the two greatest foes of long life and economical motor operation. Reo uses chrome nickel alloy iron cylinder block—the longest wearing cylinder material known today.

What 14 Leading Engineers Asked For in a Truck

How in meeting these requirements
Reo has developed High Speed, Heavy Duty Transportation like men have never known before

Fourteen foremost fleet operators, acting as a committee for the Pacific Coast Section of the Society of Automotive Engineers, recently issued official recommendations for what they called the ideal motor truck—ideal in design, construction, maintenance and operation. While these famous operators were compiling facts and figures for their recommendation, Reo engineers were developing the new Reo Speed Wagons. Without knowledge of each other's work—both reached substantially the same conclusions. Ask any Reo salesman how Speed Wagons qualify as the ideal commercial vehicle.

Tests show that this newly developed alloy limits the settling of valve seats, caused by pounding, to one-seventh the amount of the conventional case grained iron.

They have developed high power at low engine speed. They have made possible even temperature in cylinders by an ingenious device in the water cooling system which allows only 5 degrees variation in temperature between cylinders. They have put in full pressure lubrication with a fitted oil pan that keeps oil at the most efficient temperature for proper lubrication. They have included 7-bearing crankshaft and many other features that result in amazing new power, flexibility, economy and long, trouble-free life.

The new Reo Speed Wagons come in eight wheelbase sizes—from 134 to 179 inches—in tonnage capacities of 1½, 2 and 3 tons. 4 forward speed transmission. 4-wheel, 2-shoe, internal hydraulic brakes. Magazine chassis lubrication. Air-cushioned seats. And full equipment. Chassis priced from $1,295 to $2,240—F. O. B. Lansing, Michigan.

Call any of the Reo dealers whose names appear in this advertisement. They will be glad to explain why these new Reo Speed Wagons are setting new sales records in commercial transportation—like Reo Flying Clouds in the pleasure car field. A Reo transportation specialist will show you facts and figures on how you can use these popular new Speed Wagons most profitably in your business.

Reo dealers have been advised as to their allotments. They can tell you how soon a new Reo Speed Wagon can be delivered to you. Reo Motor Car Company, Lansing, Mich.

71-YEAR-OLD MAN CRUSHED BETWEEN TWO AUTOMOBILES

John Hoben Taken to City Hospital;
Boys, 13, Hit by Car, Suffers Fractured Leg.

John Hoben, 71 years old, 210 West Haven street, suffered a possible skull fracture and lacerations last night when he was crushed between two machines, one of which started up as the owner, Charles Gardner, 6613 Vermont avenue, cranked the car with the motor in reverse at an oil filling station at 6930 South Broadway.

Hoben is at City Hospital. John Lewis, 13, 2459 Grace avenue, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg at 4:15 p. m. yesterday when struck by an automobile driven by Arnold Barnes, 1827 Allemania avenue, in front of 4010 Arsenal street.

Fractures Skull in Fall. Peter Peterson, 70 years old, no home, suffered a skull fracture yesterday when he fell downstairs leading to a basement barber shop at 6310 Gravois avenue. He is at city hospital.

What a world of hope and encouragement for all who suffer there is in the numberless endorsements of Konjola, the modern medicine! From old and young; from men and women in all walks of life come these glowing, grateful tributes to this super-compound of 32 ingredients, 22 of which are the juice of roots and herbs of recognized medicinal value.

It is remarkable but true, that this new Konjola seems at the very peak of its powers when pitted against those stubborn cases that have resisted and defied every other medicine and treatment tried. This and other characteristics of this astonishing remedy are being explained daily by the Konjola Men who are at the Walgreen Drug Stores, 515 Olive street, and 6100 Easton avenue, St. Louis, meeting those who have heard much about it, who know all about this new medicine that is scoring triumph after triumph in long standing cases of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles and nervousness. Sufferers need not be warned against accepting a substitute for Konjola, for there is no medicine under the sun like this modern compound. Konjola is totally, entirely different—that is why it wins when all else fails. The Konjola Men do not deal in promises nor flowery talk; they simply point out any number of cases like that of Mr. Walter Sams, 1600 North Ninth street, St. Louis. Just the other day Mr. Sams exclaimed to the Konjola Man:

"I don't know how to start to praise this new medicine, Konjola, for it gave me a new lease on life—made me well again when I was sure my case was hopeless. I have spent hundreds of dollars on different medicines and treatments seeking some escape from stomach trouble, bad kidneys and nervousness. For eight years these troubles had been the bane of my life and from them I never expected to be free. For the past four years I had been unable to work—just loafing around in a physical wreck. I could neither eat nor sleep. I was a constant night's sleep. Daily I became worse, losing strength and energy. It was a most discouraging situation and I was at a loss to know what to do for myself."

"Well, no wonder everyone calls Konjola the master medicine. This surprising remedy started to work at once; the very first bottle was so rich in results that I could scarcely realize it. Day by day I improved and when I had completed the sixth bottle, taken in just six weeks, I was well and happy again. My stomach is functioning normally and my kidneys are in wonderful condition. Nervousness is a thing of the miserable past. I am eating and sleeping just like a healthy man should. I am looking for a position again, ready to attend to my work filled with energy and ambition. All this I owe to nothing but Konjola. It is with joy that I add my praise."

Thus Konjola works—quickly, thoroughly, surprisingly. Many, thinking just to give it a trial, find that the trial turns out to be all they need.

The Konjola Men are at the Walgreen Drug Stores, 515 Olive street, and 6100 Easton avenue, St. Louis, where they are meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

MANDATE PREPARED TO SEND SINCLAIR TO JAIL

Likely to Be Presented Saturday and Commitment Will Follow.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The mandate of the Supreme Court under which Harry F. Sinclair will be committed to jail for three months for contempt in refusing to answer questions before the Senate Oil Committee investigating Teapot Dome, was prepared today.

The present plan to issue it next Saturday and it will be available probably for presentation next Monday to Judge Hitz of the District of Columbia Supreme Court before whom Sinclair was tried.

The mandate signed by Charles Cropley, Clerk of the United States Supreme Court, is issued in the name of the "Honorable William Howard Taft, Chief Justice of the United States" and on behalf of "the United States of America and the President of the United States of America."

The Judge of the District Court who commits Sinclair to serve the sentence will determine when the oil man must surrender and in which of the two penal institutions here he will be incarcerated.

If Sinclair serves his 90-day sentence for contempt at the District of Columbia Workhouse he will run up against severe discipline.

The general opinion now is that Sinclair will go to the workhouse rather than the District of Columbia Jail.

In the workhouse at Occoquan, 26 miles from Washington, no distinctions are made. No prisoner is sent there unless he is physically fit for work. Occupations range from labor in the brick plant to gardening.

Within a few minutes after a prisoner arrives at Occoquan every article of clothing he has on is taken from him. There is substituted the regulation prison garb, consisting of a gray or blue denim jumper and a pair of trousers. He also receives one union suit, one pair of socks, one pair of shoes, one shirt and a cap.

These he must wear for one week before they are turned in at the laundry for a fresh supply.

One towel and one handkerchief are allotted, also to be turned in after a week's use. The towel may be washed during the week by the one who uses it.

The prisoner is limited to one shower bath a week, unless his work is such that more frequent bathing is required. Occoquan houses a lot of men and hot water is at a premium.

Sleeping quarters are in large brick dormitories with concrete floors. Each man has an army cot.

All prisoners must be in bed at 9 p. m. and are forbidden to get up until 6:30 a. m. without permission of the guard.

At Occoquan no doors are locked at night. A single guard is stationed at each dormitory. However, a short distance away there may be heard at times the baying of a bloodhound, one of 12 held in instant readiness to pick up the trail of a fugitive.

Plain food is served. Occoquan officials do not permit inmates to provide their own meals.

BUSINESS MAINTAINS HIGH RATE OF ACTIVITY

Federal Reserve Bank Reports Particularly Good Showing in Industry.

Business in the Eighth Federal Reserve District during April maintained the high rate of activity which marked the two months immediately preceding, according to the monthly review of the Federal Reserve Bank in St. Louis, issued today.

A particularly good showing was made by industry, said the report. Iron and steel and the metal-working industries generally were unusually active. In the textile industry moderate improvement was shown and in several miscellaneous lines the output was larger than it was a year ago.

Except in the case of commodities used extensively in highway and other public works, building materials were less active than they were last season.

The industrial employment condition was described as satisfactory, with a seasonal gain in the number of workers employed. A shortage of miners in the lead and zinc fields was reported, with an excess of filled and common labor in building industries and coal fields. Because of warm weather, coal trade sustained a decided slump.

Reports relative to collections reflect considerable irregularity, wholesalers noting less satisfactory results than a year earlier. Backlog in settlements in the flooded areas was the rule, and rains and heavy dirt roads interfered with communications in certain sections. City retail merchants reported settlements up to expectations, but rural retailers complained of slow payments, which they attribute to preoccupation of farmers with spring work.

Granite City Council Meeting. Granite City will save $2360 annually as the result of an ordinance passed by the City Council last night reducing the number of its meetings from four to two a month. The 14 Aldermen got $10 meeting. Salaries of city officials and employees were cut in half by a bill passed by the Council two months ago.

1300 TREES GIVEN CITY BY SAMUEL MOFFITT

Nine Varieties in Addition to 2000 Cherry Trees Previously Announced.

Samuel Moffitt, retired capitalist and former St. Louisan, has given 1300 trees and shrubs of nine varieties to the St. Louis parks, in addition to the 2000 Japanese cherry trees previously announced.

In 1927 Moffitt gave 1000 cherry trees which bloomed this spring. Last June, during a visit to St. Louis, he announced another similar gift. When the trees arrived during the past winter, the shipments included 200 Norway maples, 100 white weeping birches, 100 horse chestnuts, 100 French lilacs, 200 Japanese flowering crab trees, 100 Japanese peach trees, 200 Japanese maples, 200 holly trees and 100 magnolias.

Park Commissioner Pape said the new trees have been planted so as to give the best effect when matured. The cherry tree plantations, previously limited to Forest Park, have been extended to O'Fallon, Carondelet and some of the smaller parks. In addition to the Government Hill plantation in Forest Park, where trees bloomed recently, cherry trees have been planted in the Zoo grounds, around the Confederate Monument and the Field House and on Art Hill.

Moffitt has withheld the cost of his tree purchases but it has been estimated that the total value of his gift is between $30,000 and $40,000. The Japanese cherries, similar to the famous ones in the Tidal Basin in Washington, cost from $10 to $15 each.

SCHOOL LAW REVISION BILL PASSES HOUSE

Estimated St. Louis Would Lose $80,000 a Year in Apportionment of Funds.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 30.—Despite the admission of proponents of a proposed amendment to the State school laws, which radically alters the method of apportioning school funds to public school districts of Missouri, that the amendment would fall short of its purposes and that the exact effect of the changes on the apportionment was not known, the House today passed the bill, and put it up to the Senate to correct the error.

As an excuse for sending a defective bill to the Senate, House leaders urged that this action would save the cost of re-engrossing and printing the 160-page bill, and would save time. An amendment would be sought in the Senate striking out the amendment and leave the apportionment method undisturbed, it was said.

The bill is designed to revise, clarify and condense the State school laws, but contains other amendments in addition to that affecting the apportionment. One of them lowers the educational requirements for eligibility to a rural teacher's certificate.

In its present form, the bill virtually would wipe out that part of the school fund apportionment made on the basis of numbers of days attendance by pupils, which amounted to $687,731 in 1928. It has been estimated St. Louis would lose from $80,000 to $100,000 a year in school funds under the bill. Some House members have estimated the St. Louis loss as high as $200,000 a year, but said they had no definite information as a basis of that estimate.

When the bill was called up for passage, Republican Floor Leader Preckend of Taney County, who successfully defended the fund apportionment amendment when the bill was engrossed, made a statement to the House that he had become convinced the present apportionment method should not be changed.

The principal change proposed in the bill is in the apportionment to districts on the basis of the number of teachers employed, and their annual salaries. The present law provides a graduated scale, from a minimum of $25 a year for each teacher, to a maximum of $100 a year for each teacher receiving more than $1000 a year in salary.

The amendment would apportion $100 for each teacher, irrespective of salary or conditions in the district. This would require a net increase of between $300,000 and $600,000 a year over the $1,753,600 apportioned for teachers in 1928.

The amendment lowering eligibility standards for rural teachers likely will be opposed in the Senate. This amendment, offered by Representative Bales of Shannon County, requires applicants for first, second and third grade certificates, which are issued by County School Superintendents, to have completed only two years of high school work. The present law requires four years of high school work.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—A favorable report was ordered today on the nomination of Charles McK Saltzman of Iowa, to be a member of the Radio Commission by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. The committee also ordered a favorable report on the nomination of William D. L. Starbuck of Connecticut, to be a member of the commission. Saltzman, a former chief of the Army Signal Corps, reappeared before the committee today after his previous confirmation and testimony that he held 80 shares of stock in the General Electric Co. and 100 in the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. Dangerous Occupations Command High Wages

MEN who risk their lives in dangerous occupations are entitled to be paid for it. One false step and they may be killed or crippled for life.

Q It is very much the same with the investment of money. Money that is risked in highly speculative ventures is entitled to large returns.

Q As an example—stocks under ordinary circumstances yield a higher rate than bonds, for in the case of failure, stockholders are the first ones to lose.

Q In the field of investment bonds, those involving the greatest risks promise the highest returns.

Q Unless you want to put your money at hazardous work, you should not expect large profits. A savings account pays 3% compounded semi-annually, and you need not stay awake at night worrying whether you are going to lose any of the principal.

Q Can you afford to have your savings "killed" or "crippled"? If not, a Mississippi Valley savings account is the logical place for them.

Saltzman, a former chief of the Army Signal Corps, reappeared before the committee today after his previous confirmation and testified that he held 80 shares of stock in the General Electric Co. and four in the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. The committee endorsed Saltzman with the understanding that he would dispose of this stock immediately.

MISSING BLACK SWANS SEEN
Two black swans which disappeared Sunday from a lake at the country home of Edward Bakewell, on Denny road near Manchester road, were reported to have been seen a mile southwest of there last night, but were not captured.

The swans were purchased in the East and placed in the lake Friday with a number of ducks and geese. Their wings were clipped so that they could not fly.

MRS. BURGER SAYS GIVE PROHIBITION A CHANCE
Missouri W. C. T. U. President Says Repeal Move Is a Futile Gesture.

"Give prohibition its chance," pleaded Mrs. Nellie C. Burger, president of the Missouri Women's Christian Temperance Union, yesterday. She was addressing the St. Louis Woman's Christian Temperance Union Health Institute at the Union Methodist Church, 3610 Delmar boulevard.

"For almost three centuries," she continued, "the liquor traffic has had its right-of-way in this land. Drinking was almost universal. Bootlegging prevailed before prohibition, and bootleggers existed by the thousands. The saloon had a strangle-hold upon our civilization."

"Then, in 1874, was born the Woman's Crusade, that flaming, burning influence started by a handful of praying women, working for God and home and native land."

Mrs. Burger said she is not concerned with the repeal of the eighteenth amendment now, believing "the vote of a few wet states against" to be a futile gesture, "more magnified by a wet press." She predicted the defeat pending wet Missouri legislation, and said that "the situation in Missouri is much better since the passage of the Jones law. When they have had to go to the 'pen' for two or three years it makes a difference."

The Association Against the Prohibition Amendment she termed "an organization which is disseminating treason against the Constitution of our country."

Mrs. Burger said that enforcement was a grave problem which could only be solved by individual support of the law. Alluding to the use of liquor she said: "We cannot overthrow this habit in eight or nine years." She urged her audience to "discourage even mild violations of the law. It is a good law. It has brought joy where sorrow existed. It has brought peace where poverty prevailed. Nullification of the eighteenth amendment would be treachery to the Constitution."

At the Health Institute meeting yesterday afternoon a resolution was adopted condemning the use of liquor aboard the liner Leviathan, terming it a "direct infringement on the eighteenth amendment."

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. W. Shankland, president of the St. Louis Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Other speakers besides Mrs. Burger were Mrs. M. A. McKay of the Extension Division of Missouri University, and Dr. Frances L. Bishop, director of the American Social Hygiene Association. Today Mrs. Burger will address the St. Louis County Woman's Christian Temperance Union at Ferguson.

WANTED IN THREE CITIES FOR THREE DIFFERENT CRIMES

Leo Baldwin Arrested in Albany; Had Been Sought in Indianapolis, Ill., Detroit, Chicago.

By the Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., April 20.—Leo Baldwin, 29 years old, said by police to be wanted in Indianapolis as the last of an automobile thief ring, in Detroit as a rum runner and in Chicago for questioning in the death of Tom Shea, Detroit gangster, was in jail here today.

Arraigned before a United States Commissioner yesterday on charges growing out of the disappearance of automobiles in Indianapolis, Baldwin was held in default of $30,000 bail. Subsequently, police said, word came from Detroit that he was wanted there.

Baldwin was arrested Saturday night. He was said by police to have been a fugitive from justice for two years. In that time 21 other members of the gang which he is alleged to have led in Indiana have been arrested. He will be extradited to Indianapolis, the officials said.

Tolla R. Boswell Jr. Obtains Reno Decree and Marries Mrs. Margaret M. Dorsey.

By the Associated Press.
RENO, Nev., April 20.—Tolla R. Boswell Jr. of Easton, Pa., and the former Mrs. Margaret M. Dorsey of Washington were on a honeymoon here today after death and divorce had combined to cut the ties that held each to another mate.

Mrs. Dorsey had established residence here to obtain a divorce from Dr. John S. Dorsey of Washington. Boswell already had filed suit here against Mrs. Dorothy Hoag Boswell.

The death of Dr. Dorsey in Washington last Saturday made Mrs. Dorsey's divorce proceedings unnecessary. She married Boswell yesterday after he had received his divorce papers.

Salesman Disappears From Ship.

By the Associated Press.

LIVERPOOL, April 30.—The disappearance of John Norman Knight, returning from a commercial trip to the United States for a Manchester firm, was reported on the arrival of the liner Scythia today. Knight, who was traveling first-class, had not been seen since Sunday. His absence from the dinner table caused a search to be made, but without result and it was assumed that he accidentally fell overboard during the ship's rolling. Knight's wife met the liner but was told by the purser that he could throw no light on her husband's disappearance.

183 Days No Constipation—Tells Secret

"I was always constipated—nothing seemed to help. Then I tried Adierika and have been free from bowel trouble for 6 months—A. C. Rosette.

The simple mixture of glycerin, buckthorn bark, etc. (known as Adierika), has a most surprising DOUBLED action. It acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes (not mashes) that poisoned system for months. It clears GAS and softness from the stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adierika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis and rheumatism.

ports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierika checks the growth of intestinal bacteria." Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to equal Adierika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adierika I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated. It will surprise you the great amount of poisons Adierika brings out—you would never believe they were in your system. In chronic constipation, GAS, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adierika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Sold in St. Louis by Wolff-Willson Drug Store. Send for FREE checkbook. Adierika, Dept. W-26, St. Paul, Minn."

TON, April 20.—The Grain Exchange of Portland was designated a center for wheat in an order given by Secretary Hyde, which gives that exchange the priority on future trading in wheat.

It was in response to an act of the exchange which had complied with the terms and requirements of the act. It will be marketed in the Pacific permitted to carry on business. The Seattle Grain Exchange was designated center in January, 1926.

$219,000,000 OF A. & T. 4 1/2% OFFERED AT $100

Stockholders May Purchase in Ratio of $100 Par Value for Each 6 Shares of Stock Held—"Rights" Worth $8.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The following is a complete list of securities listed on the New York Curb Exchange today giving symbols, highest and lowest closing prices on all stocks and bonds.

The bonds are convertible into common stock at $100 a share during the year 1930, 1930 a share during the years 1931 and 1932, and $100 a share during the years 1933 to 1937, inclusive.

In their conversion, however, the stockholders may take one share of stock for each $100 par value of bonds by paying the difference between the conversion price of the stock then in effect and $100.

If the bondholder wishes to take as much stock as the principal amount of his bonds will pay for at the conversion price for the stock, and there is a remainder, he may take one additional share of stock by paying the difference in

On the basis of the current market price for the stock, around $122, the conversion price of $180 a share makes the rights worth about $8 a share.

The bonds are 10-year gold debentures and are redeemable until 1938 upon 60 days' notice at 105, and after Jan. 1, 1938, at 100.

Announcement of the issue was made by the directors, after stockholders, at a special meeting, had authorized a new issue, not to exceed $225,000,000. There were 9,545,617 shares outstanding, of the largest number ever represented, out of 12,936,310 shares outstanding.

The proceeds of the issue will be used for payment of the $75,000,000 of collateral trust 4 per cent bonds due July 1, 1929, and for construction required by the Bell company. While no explanation of the type of construction planned was made, it is understood that the financing was in connection with the proposed transatlantic cable. This is the Atlantic offering by the company since 1925, when it issued approximately $125,000,000 of 35 year 5 per cent debentures.

AIR CODE BILL PASSED BY MISSOURI HOUSE

Senate Measure for Regulation of Planes Goes to Governor for Signature.

By BOYD F. CARROLL, Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 29.—
The House yesterday afternoon passed the Senate bill establishing a legal "code of the air," for regulation of aircraft, and the bill now goes to the Governor for his signature.

The measure declares the ownership of the space above the land and waters of this State is vested
in the owners of the surface below,
subject to the right of lawful flight
in aircraft at altitude that would not be dangerous to persons or property on the surface. It provides that all crimes or other wrongs committed by or against an aeronaut or passenger while in flight shall be dealt with in the same manner as provided for such matters occurring on land or water. Contractual relations entered into while in flight are given the same effect as if entered into on land.

Trick or acrobatic flying over thickly inhabited areas, or public gatherings, is prohibited, and dropping of objects other than water or loose and ballast is for-bidden. Tampering with, or operation of an airplane without the permission of the owner, and tampering with any of the property or facilities of an airplane or flying field, are defined as misdemeanors.
The bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator Manuel H. Davis of Kansas City.

Licensing of air pilots and safety regulations are covered in a companion bill still pending.

Simple Science for Everybody

WE ENLIST THE AID OF INSECTS

By Helen Rowland

Air the mattress by drawing over the footboard of the bed a opening all windows for an hour.

For Everybody
G. Welles, Ph. D.

THE AID OF INSECTS.

into little maggots which burrow deep and fatally into the skin of the caterpillar. They feast on the caterpillar until it dies—exactly as we die when some terrible disease germ makes us very sick. Then the larvae of the flies leave the dead caterpillar and develop into full-grown flies on the ground. But meantime the caterpillar is dead. Which is just what the New Englanders wanted, of course.

Another, smaller kind, of Tachina fly lays its eggs on the leaves of the caterpillars eat. The eggs hatch inside the fellow and finally develop into worms that suck juices of the caterpillars until the poor creature dies.

Certain other moths are attacked by whole armies of small insects called ichneumon flies which bury their eggs in the backs of the caterpillars. Later the eggs hatch into worms that suck juices of the caterpillars until the poor creature dies.

So it often happens that tiny animals wage successful war on creatures many times their size. We human beings sometimes succumb to the ravages of plants too small to be seen excepting with the microscope.

But in the case of the Brown Tail, we enlisted the aid of one kind of insect to make war on another.

SAYINGS OF
MRS. SOLOMON

By Helen Rowland

TOO MUCH WOMEN.

HOW, oh, my daughter, shall a damsel of the New Babylon find favor in the eyes of men? Yes, how shall she deport herself, that she may be admired and courted, and left not at home by her own steam-heat-side?

For, lo, when she heedeth the copybook wisdom, and is full of propriety and dignity, and difficult to kiss, men say, "Ho, hum! She is a flat tire!"

And when a man hath sat out three dances beside her, behold he departeth and showeth up no more.

Yet if she is full of pep and modernism and ardor and responsiveness, men say, "Ho, hum! She is just like all the rest!"

And when a man hath kissed her three times, behold, he departeth and showeth up no more.

If she is wise to their ways and laugheth off their love-making, men call her "Cynic" and she is as a permision to their teeth.

And if she is simple and impressionable and taketh all their words seriously, they call her "Dumb-bell" and shy at sight of her.

If she displayeth her knees and toseth off a cocktail like a veteran, men wonder and look at her with disillusioned eyes.

Yet if she doeth the shrinking violet and refuseth the cocktail, they do not look at her at all! She is as a soft drink before dinner—innocuous!

If she seeketh to be scintillating, and is full of repartee and wittiness, she affrighteth men and causeth them to flee to cover.

But if she is silent and shy and knoweth not the smart slang and the snappy answer, she boreth them to tears, and causeth them to flee to other women.

Now, then, shall a damsel of the New Babylon find favor in the eyes of men?

For, alas, their eyes have been spoiled, and they have seen too MUCH of women. And there is no mystery and no novelty and no surprise left in them.

Whatsoever a damsel may do to charm them, that have many damsels done before. Whatsoever her line, they have heard it many times. And whatsoever her game, it is as last year's popular song, and as last season's comedy, an old one.

Verily, verily, men have become TOO wise to women, and their hearts are full of weariness.

And it hath come to pass that a man's "love" seldom lasteth beyond the third kiss. SELAH.

Use of Milk Ferments

BUTTERMILK and other sour or fermented milks are not only wholesome and refreshing as beverages and high in food value but they have a recognized therapeutic importance, especially in the treatment of intestinal disorders. Milks soured by the introduction of a "starter" or culture containing one or more of the lactic acid bacteria are produced in large quantities in commercial laboratories and are generally reliable. They differ from each other in the bacteria used and consequently in their effects, but all are high in food value, lacking none of the elements contained in the fresh milk from which they are made except the butterfat.

Any increased digestibility of the fermented milk is due not so much to change in its chemical nature as to the fact that the casein is furnished in a precipitated and finely divided condition. In none of the fermented milks is there any material cleavage of casein resembling the digestion in the stomach. In certain gastric troubles in which it is difficult to find any food that can be retained by the patient, fermented milks are frequently used with good effects.

However, the addition of fermented milk to the diet may change very materially the ratio of protein to other classes of food, the United States Department of Agriculture points out. Too much or too little protein may result, or it may happen that the symptoms of the patient are not the result of bacterial activity in the intestines but of the functional failure of certain organs. This point could be determined only by a physician. It would be very unsafe to consume large quantities of milk, fermented or unfermented, under some pathological conditions. In any case, an important change in diet should only be made on the advice of a physician.

A Change in Shades

It is wise to have inexpensive shades to replace the silk ones for use during the warm weather when the windows are open and the grit and dirt fly in. There are very attractive ones made of heavy paper or parchment that will make splendid substitutes and keep the silk ones fresh and pretty for next winter.

Air the mattress by drawing it over the footboard of the bed and opening all windows for an hour.

"TEX" GUINAN AND HOW SHE GOT THAT WAY

The Beginning of a Colorful Career on a Texas Frontier Ranch

THE LITTLE GIRL WHO ONCE COMPLAINED OF SEEING NOBODY BUT COWBOYS JUST OR THAT IS NOW INFESTED WITH BUTTER-AND-EGG MEN.

My earliest memory, I think, is of the time when I was six years old, about a year before I went to school. Then it was that my Dad taught me to ride. I know now that he picked the gentlest pony on the ranch, but even a well-bred yearling is no bargain for a 6-year-old. I never feared a horse, though, and that little pinto would do anything for me, even to kneeling until I got on his back.

It wasn't long before Dad was satisfied that the pony and I could get along all right. After that I was free to ride where I would. He knew the pony would get me home safe.

It was a glorious feeling to lope or gallop my pinto across miles of plains with the hot wind blowing my long yellow curls out in a straight line behind me. And it never occurred to me to be proud of my freedom at such a tender age. It simply seemed natural to ride. It was the life of the Texas plains.

My older brother, Willie, rode with me sometimes. There was a good-natured rivalry between us, but our parents knew it and had laid down the law against racing our ponies or trying any stunts. And we did as we were told. We didn't dare do anything else.

Pearl was still a baby and I was nearly ready to begin going to school when Tommy learned to straddle a brood mare back. That was a great day for me. From that day on he and I were pals.

and you probably know that we are to this day. Besides that, I was and always have been more or less a guaran for him.

Whenever Tommy went for a ride, little Tex rode beside him. It would be illy to say that I worried about him, for I never have worried about anything in my life, not even about my chances of going to jail when some people thought I was a nuisance. I simply appointed myself Tommy's side-kick, and stayed with him.

Sometimes, when I talk of those early days, someone asks: "What did you do for amusement?" O Queen of Clubs, you must have your court and jesters to amuse you every night!"

There is only one answer to that. There were no amusements in that day except riding. Even the rodeos were in that neighborhood.

I never played with dolls, as kids do in what we call civilized countries. I didn't even have another girl to play with, for I was 15 before Pearl was old enough to know what it was all about.

Sunday was always a great day. No work about the ranch for Dad and the cowboys. Everybody sat in together for a late breakfast. Then Dad and Mother, Willie, Tommy and I would ride six miles to the little church of the Sacred Heart.

The weekly attendance at church was not the things I always will remember. It was the only chance we had to see people.

ETIQUETTE

WHAT KIND OF WEDDING?

I AM going to be married in June and I cannot seem to arrange anything. We just have a three-room apartment and I cannot be married in my home. Many of my friends would like to see me married, but if I have a church wedding it seems that a reception is necessary after the ceremony and I cannot afford both. Would it be proper to have the wedding at the hotel and the reception also? I thought perhaps I could rent a large room and have it decorated and the ceremony performed there. Some of my friends think this is incorrect. I am at a loss what to do and I must make plans. Please help me.

M. J.

I think dear girl, that you are paying too much attention to the kind of wedding that your friends want to have you have, and are not thinking enough about what kind of wedding you really wish to have. For instance, haven't you a wish as to whether the ceremony should be performed in a church or in a public place like a hotel? If you have dreamed of having a church ceremony, don't let your friends persuade you to have your wedding in a hotel.

Really you know, it is not at all necessary to have a reception, even if it is the usual custom. But if you do plan to have one, I advise that you have the ceremony performed in a church, and then have your reception in a private room or suite of rooms in a hotel. Many brides prefer to have a few people at the ceremony, and then have a large reception for all of their friends.

School Fraternities Are Hit by Arkansas Law

A LAW just signed by Gov. Parrott of Arkansas forbidding fraternities, lodges or other secret societies in high schools or schools of low rank, has caused a stir throughout the State.

The act provides for suspension or expulsion of any pupil in a school below the rank of junior college who is, or is pledged to become, a member of a secret society or fraternity.

An exception has made for local chapters of national organizations. Some of the leaders of the societies say affiliation with a national organization will make them legal.
